Nancy, you're preaching to the choir. '...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne

Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

All narcissists are traumatized and all of them suffer from a variety of post-traumatic symptoms: abandonment anxiety, reckless behaviors, anxiety and mood disorders, somatoform disorders, and so on. But the presenting signs of narcissism rarely indicate post-trauma. This is because pathological narcissism is an EFFICIENT coping (defense) mechanism. The narcissist presents to the world a facade of invincibility, equanimity, superiority, skilfulness, cool-headedness, invulnerability, and, in short: indifference. This front is penetrated only in times of great crises that threaten the narcissist's ability to obtain Narcissistic Supply. The narcissist then "falls apart" in a process of disintegration known as decompensation. The dynamic forces which render him paralyzed and fake - his vulnerabilities, weaknesses, and fears - are starkly exposed as his defenses crumble and become dysfunctional. The narcissist's extreme dependence on his social milieu for the regulation of his sense of self-worth are painfully and pitifully evident as he is reduced to begging and cajoling. At such times, the narcissist acts out self-destructively and anti-socially. His mask of superior equanimity is pierced by displays of impotent rage, self-loathing, self-pity, and crass attempts at manipulation of his friends, family, and colleagues. His ostensible benevolence and caring evaporate. He feels caged and threatened and he reacts as any animal would do - by striking back at his perceived tormentors...”

Nancy, you're preaching to the choir. '...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

obama/holder ... Remember those guys? [To be fair and balanced, there's also the bush/cheney/paulsen axis of evildoing/war crimes/fraud in the factum, etc.] “It’s the revolving door at its most despicable. Eric Holder spent six years as attorney general, and failed to prosecute banks for their criminal wrongdoing or put any bank executives behind bars. Now, he’s set to rejoin his old white-collar criminal defense firm, making millions each year helping Wall Street bankers avoid criminal consequences. Worse, it was just reported that the firm, Covington & Burling, has kept an empty 11th floor corner office for Holder awaiting his return. Combined with Holder’s purchase a year ago of a $1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm while it continued to represent companies under DOJ investigation. If the firm & Holder agreed on a future job offer, that alone could violate criminal laws.

Federal Bureau of Investigation, USDOJ
11000 Wilshire Blvd., Suite 1700
Los Angeles, CA 90024

Dear Sir:

- .....
- Newly appointed judge, Maryanne Trump Barry, Donald Trump's sister, was assigned the RICO case despite the conflict of interest in light of hundreds of thousands of dollars of illegal (drug) money being laundered through the Trump casinos by the RICO defendants, and despite my motion to recuse her which motion she heard herself and denied, and U.S. Trustee Hugh Leonard with whom I met personally refused to join or file a separate motion to recuse and not long thereafter left said office for private practice at Cole, Shotz, et al. on retainer with the RICO defendants as his primary client.

- Probative and evidentiary documents, affidavits, exhibits, including those turned over to FBI Agent Jeff Hayes in Long Beach, CA, had been given to Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey with whom I met personally at the U.S. Attorney's Office in Newark, N.J., at which time Samuel Alito was U.S. Attorney, and went over said documents and their probative value with him. Within approximately a month thereafter upon inquiry I was told that Jonathon Lacey was no longer with the office, that the file/documents could not be located, and that there was no further information available concerning contacting him or his location. I thereupon delivered by hand, copies of said documents to the office of then U.S. Attorney Alito, addressed to him, with assurance they would go directly to him. In addition to being inept [ I looked in on the one mob case he had brought, bungled, lost (accidentally on purpose?) since I was suing some mob-connected under RICO and the court (I had known / previously met outside of court the Judge Ackerman through a client) was absolute bedlam and a total joke since incompetent corrupt Alito brought in all 20 mob defendants (rather than prosecute one or a few to flip them first) who feigning illness had beds/cots in the courtroom along with their moans during testimony and had the jury in stitches. As much as I hate the mob, it truly was funny, if not so tragic.], Alito is also corrupt (and maybe corrupt because he is inept). After a reasonable (but still rather short) time I called to determine the status and was told that Alito was no longer with the Office of the U.S. Attorney, that he was (appointed) a federal judge, and that neither the documents nor any file or record of same could be located. Alito did parley the same / cover-up into quid pro quo direct lifetime appointment to the Court of Appeals, 3rd circuit, despite the absence of judicial experience or successful tenure as U.S. Attorney (Maryanne Trump Barry as well). This is the same Sam Alito that now sits on the purported highest court in the land. The real application of the illegal rule 'don't ask, don't tell'.

How about a polygraph for 'no good neighbor sam' alito, which would have flushed out mentally ill mobster/criminal thief in chief trump along with other jersey/new york criminal mafia guineas long ago. Bear with me. At risk of appearing paranoid, I know they monitor/read my stuff, ie., facebook, twitter, website, etc., hoping for a misstep on which they can predicate/rationalize action/inaction. ‘AN UTTER FRAUD. AN ABSOLUTE AND UTTER FRAUD,’ MCGINNIS CALLS PALIN IN AN [INTERVIEW ABOUT THE BOOK WITH NBC.

Joe McGinniss Sarah Palin Book, 'The Rogue,' Makes Controversial Claims About Former Alaska Governor ‘Joe McGinniss's new book, The Rogue: Searching for the Real Sarah Palin, hits bookstores next week, but its controversial claims about the former Alaska governor are already making waves.

In the book, McGinniss writes that Palin had a one-night stand in 1987 with future NBA basketball player Glen Rice nine months before she married her husband Todd. He quotes a friend who said Palin "had a fetish for black guys for a while."

"She was a gorgeous woman. Super nice. I was blown away by her," Rice tells McGinniss in the book, NBC reports. "Afterward, she was a big crush that I had."

McGinniss's book also alleges that Palin had an extramarital affair with her husband's business partner, Brad Hanson, in the mid-1990s, and snorted cocaine off a 55-gallon oil drum while snowboarding.

"An utter fraud. An absolute and utter fraud," McGinniss calls Palin in an interview about the book with NBC.

"At best, she's a hypocrite," McGinniss tells NBC's Savannah Guthrie. "At worst, she's a vindictive hypocrite."

McGinniss famously moved into a house next door to Palin's Wasilla, Alaska home to write his book -- prompting the Palins to accuse him of stalking them. They built a high fence along their property to protect their privacy.

In response to McGinniss's book, Todd Palin gave a statement to NBC saying that McGinniss "spent the last year interviewing marginal figures with an axe to grind in order to churn out a hit piece to satisfy his own creepy obsession with my wife."

"I'd ask the fathers and husbands of America to consider our privacy when one summer day I found this guy on the deck of the rental property, just 18 feet away next door to us, staring like a creep at my wife while she mowed the lawn in her shorts," Palin said.

McGinniss says that anything he learned about Palin by living next door did not make it into the book, but he does become a character in the story himself.

The New York Times writes in its review:

Soon Mr. McGinniss is settling in to enjoy the fuss his mere presence has created. "Normally, for a news story to continue beyond the first 24-hour news cycle, something newsworthy must occur," he writes loftily, but "The Rogue" is filled with proof to the contrary. What was his hate mail like? He quotes it. What did Glenn Beck call him? That's here too. Who took umbrage at this venom and chose to help him? One man offered him a hideout, despite Mr. McGinniss's slight skepticism about his motives. "But you don't know me," Mr. McGinniss protested.

McGinniss's book is scheduled to hit bookstores on Tuesday, Sept. 20.'

Bristol Palin Interview Accidentally Reveals Mother's 15 Abortions

www.theonion.com WASILLA, AK—Sarah Palin's political team was forced to do emergency damage control Monday after the former Alaska governor's daughter Bristol accidentally divulged on live television that her mother has undergone at least 15 abortions over the past 30 years. "She's always telling me how special I am, especially considering the five or six babies she aborted before I was born," Palin, 20, said during a CNN interview in which she was asked if she thought her mother would make a good president. "Then of course there were the twins she aborted shortly after having me, another four abortions after Willow somehow survived hers—but anyway, she's a wonderful mom. She just gets pregnant a lot and doesn't always want to have the baby." Palin also commended her mother's strength in carrying three babies with Down syndrome to term, and then even choosing not to give Trig up for adoption like the others.

Nancy, you're preaching to the choir. '...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

Parliament Patrick Harvie called on the government in November to file an “Unexplained Wealth Order” against Trump to compel him to reveal the source of that cash. The circular flow of money in the Trump companies provides an opportunity for money laundering, The New Yorker business writer Adam Davidson has suggested. He called the resorts “money disappearing” operations. Trump “owns the asset, lends the money, owes the money, is owed the money,” Davidson explained. “The overall picture is crystal clear: Every year, Trump lends millions to himself, spends all that money on something, and claims the asset is worth all the money he spent.” But Trump couldn’t possibly have spent all the outlays he claims on his properties, Davidson said. “We have the planning docs. We know how much he spent — it’s far less than what he claims. The money truly disappears. It goes from one pocket to another pocket and then the pocket is opened to reveal nothing is there.” The leader of the Scottish government, First Minister Nicola Sturgeon, told Harvie late last year that Trump will face “due accountability” if evidence is found linking the resorts to money laundering or any other financial fraud.....”

OPINION: THE PEOPLE WHO LET PUTIN GET AWAY WITH PERSECUTING NAVALNY <https://www.cnn.com/2021/02/03/opinions/condemn-putin-over-navalny-sentence-kasparov/index.html> The people who let Putin get away with persecuting Navalny By Garry Kasparov (CNN) The Russian opposition leader Alexey Navalny was sentenced in Moscow on Tuesday to two and a half years of prison. His supposed crime was a probation violation committed while he was in a coma in Berlin after being poisoned by the same state security forces that have locked him up again. It's pointless to talk about the details of the case. Not when Vladimir Putin is the only real judge, jury and, from time to time, executioner (which he denies). The dictator Putin has up till now avoided imprisoning Navalny for very long, although he has targeted Navalny's family, as any mafia boss would.

Hey there, Albert. It's Joe Biden.

Yes, Joe. By all means call me. You, your people have my number by way of the numerous text messages and my replies. I've done more than my share to finish trump. trump's done! He along with other mobsters, corrupt politicians, government officials, judges including trump's sister maryanne have actionably cost me far more than I've indicated I'm willing to accept for resolution. Call me. I'll be calling you, Nancy, et al. after the election for resolving this at long last. trump's done. It was not easy, and very costly to me in many ways owing to pervasive american bipartisan corruption. Congratulations Mr. President!

My Email Reply: I don't want to misrepresent so let me be clear: I would vote for Biden/Harris over trump/pence if I were voting; but, even that is contingent upon what has been egregious bipartisan corruption and resolution thereof. Absent that, for me, just more of the same; viz., distinctions without a difference. I vote on my website. So, I'll say yes with the aforementioned qualification.

Nancy, you're preaching to the choir. '...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331,

1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

Yes, Joe. By all means call me. You, your people have my number by way of the numerous text messages and my replies. I've done more than my share to finish trump. trump's done! He along with other mobsters, corrupt politicians, government officials, judges including trump's sister maryanne have actionably cost me far more than I've indicated I'm willing to accept for resolution. Call me. I'll be calling you, Nancy, et al. after the election for resolving this at long last. trump's done. It was not easy, and very costly to me in many ways owing to pervasive american bipartisan corruption. Congratulations Mr. President!

My Email Reply: I don't want to misrepresent so let me be clear: I would vote for Biden/Harris over trump/pence if I were voting; but, even that is contingent upon what has been egregious bipartisan corruption and resolution thereof. Absent that, for me, just more of the same; viz., distinctions without a difference. I vote on my website. So, I'll say yes with the aforementioned qualification.

Nancy, you're preaching to the choir. '...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

Eric Holder spent six years as attorney general, and failed to prosecute banks for their criminal wrongdoing or put any bank executives behind bars. Now, he's set to rejoin his old white-collar criminal defense firm, making millions each year helping Wall Street bankers avoid criminal consequences. Worse, it was just reported that the firm, Covington & Burling, has kept an empty 11th floor corner office for Holder awaiting his return. Combined with Holder's purchase a year ago of a $1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm even while it continued to represent companies under Department of Justice investigation. If the firm and Holder agreed on a future job offer, that alone could violate criminal laws. ..."

The U.S. Government Is Flat Broke

<https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/>

Flat Broke

First, let's recall the basic numbers from the CBO...

- The budget deficit will total $2.3 trillion – 10.3 percent of GDP – in FY 2021 and total $12.3 trillion (4.4 percent of GDP) over the next decade.
- Debt will reach a new record as a share of the economy, growing from over 79 percent of GDP at the end of FY 2019 to over 102 percent of GDP by the end of 2021... and will grow another $13.6 trillion by the end of 2031, ultimately reaching $35.3 trillion.
- Four major trust funds are on a path toward insolvency. CBO projects Highway Trust Fund insolvency in FY 2022, Medicare Hospital Insurance Trust Fund insolvency in FY 2026. Social Security Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund insolvency appears likely in calendar year 2032 and Social Security Disability Insurance Trust Fund insolvency in the mid-2030s.
- Debt could be even higher than projected. If policymakers enact $2 trillion of additional fiscal relief, extend expiring tax provisions, and grow annual appropriations with GDP, debt would total 120 percent of GDP by 2031.

Now, let's add some numbers of our own.

This year, the feds will collect about $3.8 trillion in taxes. But they will spend $380 billion on interest on existing debt (at the lowest rates in history) and about $4 trillion on “transfer payments” (depending on how much stimmy the feds give out).

You see the problem clearly, as we do.

More than 100% of the feds' revenue is spent before they ever begin governing. The “transfer payments” are things such as Obamacare, Social Security, and supplemental unemployment benefits – moving money from one pocket to another.

But that leaves nothing for the Department of Defense. Nothing for the fight against COVID-19. Nothing for the thousands of boondoggles and bamboozles finagled over the years.

In other words, the federal government is flat broke. It has not a single penny with which to fulfill its core responsibilities. Not a farthing for the courts. Not a peso for the Pentagon. And not a dollar for infrastructure... research... climate change... or anything else.

“Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900) as an Existentialist Philosopher “I know my lot. Some day my name will be linked to the memory of something monstrous, of a crisis as yet unprecedented on earth...” (Nietzsche 2007:88). Remarkably, what in 1888 sounded like megalomania came some years later to be realized. The name ‘Nietzsche’ has been linked with an array of historical events, philosophical concepts and widespread popular legends. Above all, Nietzsche has managed somehow to associate his name with the turmoil of a crisis. For a while this crisis was linked to the events of WWII. The exploitation of his teaching by the Nazi ideologues (notably Alfred Rosenberg and Alfred Baeumler), although utterly misdirected, arguably had its source in Nietzsche’s own “aristocratic radicalism”. More generally, the crisis refers to the prospect of a future lacking of any meaning. This is a common theme for all the existentialists to be sure. The prospect of millennia of nihilism (the devaluation of the highest values) inaugurates for Nietzsche the era in which the human itself, for the first time in its history, is called to give meaning both to its own existence and to the existence of the world. This is an event of a cataclysmic magnitude, from now on there are neither guidelines to be followed, lighthouses to direct us, and no right answers

The costs of sending humans to Mars outweigh the possible benefits

“Taking humans to Mars, although theoretically possible, would require an investment astronomically out of kilter with the possible benefits.” — Aerospace engineer Antonio Elias to Washington Post

Robots are a better option for exploring the planet

“Today a trained geologist on the moon can perform as well as a robotic explorer, but the future of geologic investigation of other worlds lies with highly improved versions of our Mars rovers. These explorers will deploy numerous tools to probe rocks and minerals, using a memory equal — and soon superior — to any human’s. They will traverse the lunar or Martian surface for decades, continuously learning about the topography, seismographic activity and distribution of geologic strata in bulk and in detail.” — Donald Goldsmith and Martin Rees, Scientific American

A human mission could undermine our scientific pursuits on Mars

“If humans do eventually land on Mars, they would not arrive alone. They would carry with them their earthly microbes. Trillions of them. There is a real risk that some of these microbes could find their way onto the surface of Mars and, in doing so, confuse — perhaps irreversibly so — the search for Martian life. ... Our presence on Mars could jeopardise one of our main reasons for being there — the search for life.” — Zahaan Bharmal, Guardian

The focus on Mars could prevent exploration of other worlds

“Enthusiasm over Mars tends to foster a feedback loop where more resources are devoted to exploring the planet, which unveils new findings that only add to the interest, causing the public and private sectors to devote more money to Mars exploration, and so forth. MAIL.COM

MAIL.COM

In this segment from CNN Alyson Camerota interviews three former Qanon cult members and three people with relatives still in the cult. What they say they believe is totally bonkers. [Bonkers? True enough, euphemistically speaking; but, to be sure, shockingly not unprecedented given america's cover-up culture.]

This is Koo Koo for Coco Puffs people.

They believe that not only is Joe Biden not the President, that Trump is actually still in the White House running things while wearing a Joe Biden mask.

The House has shutdown today because Qanoners apparently believe that Trump will be revealed today and re-inaugurated as the "19th POTUS" since this was the date of inauguration back in 1871 when something something ramma-lamma-ding-dong.

Trump is supposedly going to unilaterally install a new economic system that will forgive debts and mortgages which haven't been paid over the past year, even though in truth he's a disaster kleptocrat who can't avoid an opportunity to grift from the government and enrich himself personally. HE OWNS PROPERTY —why would he forgive mortgage and rent payments TO HIMSELF?

Their primary news sources —other than the internet —are via Newsmax and OAN. They don't even really watch Fox News other than Tucker Carlson, who claims he doesn't know what Q is and that he can't find any evidence of it.

All of them agree that it is clear that Qanon is a White Supremacist DomesticTerrorist group. They switch the meaning of their words depending whether their speaking online or on the phone. They use the term "Canadians" when referring to "less desirable" people. They feel that children are in danger, that their freedom is in danger and that they have to "go to war" to fight back.

Since the "Election was Stolen" (sic) they felt justified in storming the Capitol.

It was an act of last resort, but they are now even more desperate and the Jan 6th Insurrection was merely a “drop in the bucket” for what’s coming.

Facts are inconsequential. Truth is a lie. The regular News is in on the giant plot, they are enablers for the pedophiles and blood suckers among Hollywood and Democrats.

It appears that the spread of Corona Virus has acted as a gateway for people who were nervous and anxious about what is currently happening, Q provides a pathway to answers, bad answers, a solution for those anxieties. It provides comfort and security, a way to make the world make sense. You can “choose your own doomsday rabbit hole” for whatever your most afraid of.

Q is ruining lives. It’s ruining families.

They are the ones who wanted to change the results of the election, however many of them refuse to believe that their supporters were the ones who attacked the Capitol —they think it was really Antifa dressed up in cosplay Trump gear.

Except that FBI Director Wray just testified that Antifa was not involved in the Insurrection.

Q tells you that what you are being told by the media is a lie. Then it encourages you to do your own hunting through history and old claims —like the Protocols of the Elders of Zion—to find your “true” answers. These newly crafted theories get shared and debated back and forth on social media from Facebook, Twitter, TicTok, Parler, Gab and Telegram until the new narrative begins to form. The truth doesn’t come from Q, his posts merely present suggestions —they’re making this shit up themselves.

We need a national deprogramming scheme.

Cult deprogrammers are flush with work as the family members of Trump-conspiracy believers and Qanon supporters seek professional help for their loved ones.

According to an NPR report, professional counselors specializing in cult deprogramming are facing a mountain of requests from people hoping to break their loved ones free of Trump-related conspiracy theories.

**[...]

According to the cult experts, social media plays a significant role in exposing vulnerable people to conspiracy theories.

Joan Donovan, a leading research of online disinformation at the Shorenstein Centre on Media, Politics and Public Policy called today's social media environment a "free for all" inundated with "unfathomable" amounts of disinformation.

**[...]

That feeling of 'I did my own research, and I didn't just believe what I read in the newspapers' makes believers more emotionally invested," Ariele Kovler, who researches online extremism and disinformation, said. "They believe it much stronger."

One exit counselor, Pat Ryan, told NPR that he advised family members of those consumed by conspiracy theories not to take especially adversarial stances with them, as it tends to drive people deeper into their disinformation communities.

Another counselor said they used the same tactics that conspiracy theorists use to draw people in to help break people out.

Steven Hassan, a former Moonie who helps people break away from cults, uses "gentle questions" and tries to use a breadcrumb approach - leaving little bits of information leading to specific conclusions - to help those tied into cults and conspiracy theories find their way back to reality.

You can't argue people out of this, you have to approach them in a way that they can trust you —so you have to partially “buy in” to their delusions, or at least not directly challenge them in an argumentative way. You have to slowly show them the errors in their thinking, using the same method that brought them into Q in the first place.

In the end though, they have to make the decision to come out of the cult on their own, no one can force them.

The U.S. Government Is Flat Broke

<https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/>

Flat Broke

First, let's recall the basic numbers from the CBO...

- The budget deficit will total $2.3 trillion – 10.3 percent of GDP – in FY 2021 and total $12.3 trillion (4.4 percent of GDP) over the next decade.
- Debt will reach a new record as a share of the economy, growing from over 79 percent of GDP at the end of FY 2019 to over 102 percent of GDP by the end of 2021... and will grow another $13.6 trillion by the end of 2031, ultimately reaching $35.3 trillion.
- Four major trust funds are on a path toward insolvency. CBO projects Highway Trust Fund insolvency in FY 2022, Medicare Hospital Insurance Trust Fund insolvency in FY 2026. Social Security Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund insolvency appears likely in calendar year 2032 and Social Security Disability Insurance Trust Fund insolvency in the mid-2030s.

- Debt could be even higher than projected. If policymakers enact $2 trillion of additional fiscal relief, extend expiring tax provisions, and grow annual appropriations with GDP, debt would total 120 percent of GDP by 2031.

Now, let's add some numbers of our own.

This year, the feds will collect about $3.8 trillion in taxes. But they will spend $380 billion on interest on existing debt (at the lowest rates in history) and about $4 trillion on “transfer payments” (depending on how much stimmy the feds give out).

You see the problem clearly, as we do.

More than 100% of the feds' revenue is spent before they ever begin governing. The “transfer payments” are things such as Obamacare, Social Security, and supplemental unemployment benefits – moving money from one pocket to another.

But that leaves nothing for the Department of Defense. Nothing for the fight against COVID-19. Nothing for the thousands of boondoggles and bamboozles finagled over the years.

In other words, the federal government is flat broke. It has not a single penny with which to fulfill its core responsibilities. Not a farthing for the courts. Not a peso for the Pentagon. And not a dollar for infrastructure... research... climate change... or anything else.

YOUGHAL, IRELAND – The subject this week is inflation. And what a marvelous subject it is.

One day, a share in Tesla costs $50. Flash forward to today, and it has risen to $653.

Or take bitcoin... Five years ago, you could buy it for $500. Now, it's nearly $50,000.

Or a daily newspaper. In 1918, you could buy a daily newspaper in Berlin for less than 1 deutsche mark. Five years later, you'd have needed 42 billion of them.

We're a long way from 100,000% consumer price inflation. But even the longest journey, down that lost highway, begins by stepping on the gas.

Today's Highlights:

- Stocks dropped for the 3rd day in a row after comments from Fed Chair Jerome Powell. Once again it was the NASDAQ leading the major indices lower, this time with a 1.7% loss.
- With today's slide the NASDAQ turned negative for the year. The drop briefly put the index in "correction" territory when it was down more than 10% from its 52-week high.
- This afternoon Fed Chair Jerome Powell was in the spotlight. Powell said that the re-opening of the economy will cause temporary inflation. But his comments failed to put trader's concerns over rising interest rates at ease. Traders were hoping that Powell would hint at a plan known as "Operation Twist" where the Fed sells short-term bills and buys longer-term bonds to combat rising rates (higher rates are typically bad for the stock market).

- Weekly Jobless claims were slightly lower than expected with 745,000 American filing for unemployment. Tomorrow traders will be focused on the monthly Jobs Report at 8:30am ET.

The Summer 2020 Turning Point for the Economy U.S. <https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/the-summer-2020-turning-point-for-the-economy-u-s/>

Bill Bonner Mar 8, 2021 Bill Bonner's Diary 9 min read

YOUGHAL, IRELAND – Over the weekend, the Senate passed the $1.9 trillion COVID-19 boondoggle. And the U.S. 10-year Treasury note – the bedrock of the entire American capital structure – now trades at more than three times the yield it had last August.

There are two overlapping narratives to explain the rise in bond yields. The one favored by Wall Street and Washington is that the economy is entering a fantastic growth phase... with businesses borrowing heavily to keep up with expanding demand (thus pushing up yields).

As long as “growth” is so robust, say the bulls, consumer price inflation won't be a problem.

The other hypothesis is that bond yields are rising because the feds are increasing the money supply about 15 times faster than GDP growth. Investors are looking ahead and seeking protection against inflation.

Friday's jobs report allegedly showed a healthy up-tick in hiring. But while jobs in the service sector increased, those in mining and construction actually went down.

And considering that mining and construction jobs pay about three times as much as waiting on tables or handling baggage at an airport, what this really shows is further deterioration of the economy – from one that creates wealth to one that consumes it, by giving people fake money.

Turning Point

We also believe August 2020 marked the beginning of the end for the fake-money system, with the bottom of a 40-year bond cycle.

If we're right, inflation and interest rates are headed up and up... until they are completely out of control.

So far, all we've seen are a few nuts and bolts dropping out of the engine. SPACs (special-purpose acquisition companies) fell some 20% last week... Bitcoin is about 15% off its high. And the headlines are beginning to talk about a “tech sell-off.”

But as American households, businesses, and the government struggle to refinance $80 trillion in debt... it's going to get harder and harder to keep the jalopy on the road.

World Improvers

In the meantime, let us tell you about our trip back to Ireland.

A week Friday, we sat in a hotel bar in Managua, Nicaragua. Eight TV screens hung over the bar. Those with loud Latino music made sure no conversation was possible. Which was okay with us. We had no one to talk to anyway.

We reflected on the differences... the things that make one group different from another – culture... race... nationality... religion.

The “Third World” always seems disorderly. Traffic goes every which way. Trash gets tossed into the trees and gullies. People don't form up into neat lines.

There is an order; it is just a different one.

This kind of thinking – about what separates one group from another – was very popular in the early 20th century. People thought race explained why some groups were so much more advanced than others. Africans were far behind, they thought, because they were Africans!

And the world-improvers of the time thought they could improve the world by improving the people in it. “Eugenics” it was called, supported by the Carnegie Institution, the Rockefeller Foundation, and rich families such as the Kelloggs and Harrimans... and backed by smart people such as Alexander Graham Bell.

They were motivated to improve the human race by reducing birth rates for “inferior” groups. Efforts were also made to sterilize mental defectives (“Three generations of idiots is enough,” famously ruled the Supreme Court.) Also, less “fit” mothers – Black, Hispanic, Native American – were the targets of forced sterilization efforts, that didn't go very far.

By the way... the “Native American” tag is a bit of subterfuge. No peoples are native to the Americas. All are immigrants. At least Christopher Columbus made an honest mistake; he thought he was in the East Indies and called them “indians.”

But the whole field of race relations and cultural politics was – and still is – crowded and muddled. And naturally, the feds made it worse... with the Immigration Act of 1924, in which “nordic” races were favored.

Giving Racism a Bad Name

It was (mostly) harmless crackpottery until the Nazis got in on the act. They gave eugenics a really bad name... pretending to be better than everyone else... and murdering those they considered inferior – the Untermenschen.

Houston Stewart Chamberlain was a scientist... a scholar... a learned man, who had traveled around Europe with a Prussian tutor. Very unlike the louts who invaded the U.S. capital, he learned to speak German, French, and Italian and studied anatomy, botany, geology, and physiology.

And yet, for all his learning, he came to conclusions that today, we would regard as not only scientifically incorrect... but morally wrong, too. That is, he worshipped the Aryan gods... and feared that Jews – like a virus – were infecting the Teutonic race. In 1935, Germany passed a law making marriage between Christians and Jews illegal.

Still, his ideas, scholarship, and a good marriage with the composer Richard Wagner’s daughter, brought him fame. And when he died in 1927, a young Adolf Hitler attended his funeral.

Hitler lost World War II, of course. And eugenics and racism were discredited.

Comeback

But now, racism is making a comeback... Once again, people think it explains why some groups are more successful than others.

To put this in perspective, “Hispanics” are generally not as rich as “Nordics.” Even in their own Latin American countries, those with more “European blood” tend to be better off than those with less. The whiter the skin, the higher the income.

That is just our observation. Whether it is supported by academic study or not, we don’t know. But we’d be surprised if it weren’t true.

Nor is it meant to point the finger of blame in either direction. Wealth requires work, self-discipline, forbearance, and saving. Not everyone thinks it’s worth the effort.

And, who knows? Maybe it isn’t.

Still, if we were to take away grudges and enemies, many people’s brains would suddenly deflate like a popped balloon. The “Europeans” blame the “shiftless Hispanics” for their lower incomes. The “Hispanics” blame the “European oppressors.”

Alternative Hypothesis

To these two hypotheses, we offer an alternative: It’s the fault of neither.

The races – like individuals – are neither always good nor always bad, but always subject to influence. And there’s nothing particularly wrong with the way either chooses to live.

We studied the subject over the weekend of our departure.

In order to get out of Nicaragua, we first had to get deeper into it. That is, we had to leave our pleasant bubble on the Pacific Coast and experience the country the way the locals do.

The point of the exercise was to get a COVID-19 test at the government's "Ministry of Citizen Power for Health." Without the test, we couldn't leave.

You get to the federales' medical compound by weaving through a maze of slums.

In America, builders throw old tin away. In Managua, it is recycled... and recycled. Bent, broken, pierced by holes, it nevertheless is put to work as a wall or a roof. Rusty tin is probably the most ubiquitous building material in Nicaragua.

Is that the way it should be? Is that the way we would do it? Do we think buildings made of rusty tin are attractive? Charming? Elegant?

Nobody cares what we think.

Attitudes and Actions

The do-gooders and world-improvers always want to change other people. Themselves, they regard as the crown of creation, with no need for improvement. Others, however, need to get with the program.

The "poor," for example, should build with cinder blocks and concrete... neat little houses that look more like our own. Of course, if the locals acted like us, they'd already have houses like ours.

But why should they?

Let us imagine that the residents of Managua began acting like the residents of Zurich, Switzerland. They clean the canals and streets. No more mañana... they do it today!

They learn to make expensive watches, run banks, and yodel. And they insist that everything be done well – with an attention to detail that bordered on obsession. Being even a minute late would be considered shameful.

Now, can you imagine these Swiss-like people living in rusty-tin houses, with chickens scratching around in the trash for something to eat?

No? Well, neither can we. Attitudes produce actions. Actions have consequences. But if people want to throw their trash in the streets, it's none of our business.

Bedlam

After negotiating the narrow streets, weaving between chickens, busty grandmothers, desperately thin dogs, and prim school children dressed in their crisp blue and white uniforms...

...we arrived at our destination, only to find what we feared – bedlam.

People clustered in front of the entrance. The Swiss would have a well-organized system. Here, it was hard to know if there was any "system" at all.

We explained to a man in a brown uniform that we were there to get the coronavirus test... and that we had already paid for it.

We had paid online in the mistaken belief that it might speed up the process. What it did was get us directed to another line... where our payment details could be verified and our document rubber stamped.

Then, another man in a brown uniform directed us towards somewhere... we weren't sure where... People were going in every direction.

"You're taking the COVID test," said a friendly voice in English. "Follow me."

The helpful young man led us out a door, across a courtyard... and then, improbably, through a narrow corridor. Then, he wished us well...

We continued... and were directed, by yet another man in a brown outfit, to sit down and show our documents.

"Where's your passport?" he wanted to know.

"We didn't realize we needed it. It's out in the car."

"Yes... you need it. But I'll keep your place for you."

Pleasant and Helpful

One of the surprising things in a country run by a man many consider a ruthless dictator is that the civil servants are pleasant and generally helpful.

And the apparent chaos can add flexibility. In a federal building in Baltimore, a guard might tell you to follow the signs to the exit... and start the process all over again. Any objection, and he'd have you down on the floor with his knee on your neck.

We simply backtracked, going against the traffic and exiting through the entrance door. And then, explaining to the three brownshirts what had happened, we were allowed to break ranks and accomplish our mission.

Back in our seats, the helpful man in the brown uniform inspected our documents. Finding them in order, he bid us take a seat, along with about 30 other people.

The man next to us had a U.S. passport. But he spoke English poorly. Another man in the group appeared to be about our age. He was with his wife, or perhaps it was his daughter, who carried a very young baby.

The rest of the group looked like a cross-section of Nicaragua. Most were getting the test so they could go to Miami.

Odd Method

Rather than call out numbers... or let us into the screening room one by one, the method was an odd one.

Each time someone moved in to have his nose rotor-rooted, everybody got up and moved one seat closer to the front.

Finally, it was our turn.

Again, our papers were inspected. Our passport was taken. When the work was completed, a sticker was attached to our passport.

“Come back at 3 p.m... Show them this number.”

And so we did. The vital paper was delivered and we were free to leave.

The “system” worked.

Regards,

Bill

IRELAND – This is a wacky week... with more exotic mysteries and marvels of modern money madness.

we look at NFTs... non-fungible tokens.

gible,” they mean they are one-of-a-kind. And by “token,” they mean... well... it’s not necessarily anything at all.

the way, the “blockchain” is involved, too.

is placed on the blockchain, where it will be safe and sound; you won’t have to worry about anyone stealing it... if th steal.

Iconic Importance

where it gets interesting, because you can tokenize practically anything.

ake a picture of yourself clowning around in the garden, for example, and put it on the blockchain... and there, it will a wedding ring resting at the bottom of the ocean.

NFTs have some iconic importance. One company, for example, takes an image – of, say, LeBron James dunking a basketball – and turns it into an NFT.

There may be millions of photos of LeBron James dunking the very same basketball... even the same photo that became an NFT... and only you... have the tokenized, encrypted, blockchained version with your number on it.

Trump Tweets About Tech Expert Jeff Brown

After Trump was banned from Twitter, Donald Trump's retweet of Jeff Brown's appearance on the Glenn Beck Show disappeared. Brown's new presentation explaining his thoughts on the "Great Reset," and what it means for ordinary Americans, is now available now.

Wild-Eyed Wonders

Truth is not the subject of today's Diary. Because the answer to that is obvious – nobody has a clue.

Today is merely the wackiness... weirdness... and the wild-eyed wonders of a late-stage Bubble Epoch.

For example, the headline news was this, from MarketWatch: Fall in bond yields? Really?

We find that the 10-year Treasury yield fell from 1.59% on the 8th of March to 1.55% on the 9th. That this 0.04% one-percentage-point rise in the Nasdaq is nutty enough.

When the money goes bad, everything gets a little nutty.

Amazon stock, for example, rose nearly 20% yesterday – adding more than $100 billion to the value of the company. Maybe a 0.04% decline in auto finance rates will trigger millions of new sales!

They're anticipating all the fancy new automobiles people will buy with the "stimmy" money they're getting from the federal government.

Probably still... they know that a lot of that stimmy money will be used to buy Tesla stock.

idea from that great, pull-your-leg artist, Banksy, after his own leg was just pulled by a company calling itself Injective. Banksy famously destroyed one of his own works, “Girl With Balloon.” It was being sold at auction... But as soon as the shredder built into its commodious frame suddenly ripped it to pieces right in front of the whole assembly, including the $1.4 million for it.

Injective accepted the now-shredded – and now-cooler-than-ever – painting, renamed by the unidentified Banksy, “Love Is the Answer.” The auctioneer, said it “marked the first time a piece of live performance art had been sold at auction.”

Morons in Flames

Injective Protocol – a blockchain company, according to CBS News – took a big step forward in the nuttiness of the crypto world.

Banksy 2006 work entitled “Morons (White)” for $95,000. The (master) piece shows a crowd at an art auction gawking at a painting which it is written, “I can’t believe you morons actually buy this sh*t.”

Injective Protocol made a digital version of it and turned it into an NFT... before destroying the original Banksy work, calling it “BurntBanksy.” This destruction, they live-streamed on Twitter.

And à la clin d’oeil be missed, the person who set a match to Banksy’s “Morons (White)” painting was wearing a mask... and a “Girl With Balloon” on it.

In its post-physical, digital form, “Morons (White)” is supposedly worth $380,000.

This may sound like a wild boast but I fully expect the government to make good on the damages. Owing to the nature of the RICO Statute, such outrageous corrupt acts that included literally my waking up to find my mother removed from the west orange new jersey property leaving everything, including her car behind, is not incorporated in the damages I fully expect for what is a testament to american fraud, coast to coast. The pressure was constant and I had gotten a general power of attorney on her behalf which of course they violated. Jersey is a shit hole; and, quite frankly, new york, not far behind.

Cat, I'm taking our conversation over here for privacy - if that exists in the world of Zuckerberg. I knew you were being harassed and Marianne Trump had worked against you. We didn't talk too many of the details so I had no idea how extensively. And doing that to your Mom? Horrible! I feel bad that you have had to endure this for all of these years - more than half of your lifetime. I pray that it is finally resolved in your favor and you have peace. I had another friend who was singled out. After raiding his home, including a helicopter, they took it into the courts and they took everything he owned. I'm not sure who is behind the curtain, pulling the strings. All I know is that some bad people are in the deep state. When you started representing the bus company, the corruption in AC was at it's peak - it was known but everyone looked the other way. The line between law and criminal activity was blurred. What a burden to have to carry. Your life was tough enough growing up having lost your Dad so young. I'm almost crying now but gonna switch over to prayer mode. Love you, my Brother!

Combined with Holder's purchase a year ago of a $1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm even while it continued to represent companies under Department of Justice investigation. ## Goldman: There Is No Bubble, There Is No Bubble, There Is No Bubble

by Tyler Durden

Monday, Mar 22, 2021 - 03:40 PM

When the most respected bank in the US feels compelled to publish A 42-page "guide to bubbles and why we are not in one" in response to what is a clear outpouring of client concerns that we are, in fact, in one we respectfully leave it up to readers to read between the lines and reach the obvious conclusion.

We say that because reading Goldman's actual lines is quite painful: in his (futile) attempt to convince the bank's clients that US stocks are not, in fact, in a bubble, Goldman strategist Peter Oppenheimer writes that "in recent weeks there have been growing concerns about a bubble building up in the equity market and across financial markets in general" before eventually concluding that "while there are pockets of excessive valuations in equities, and parts of the market are justifiably de-rating as interest rates adjust, in our assessment only a few of these common characteristics are currently present or being partially met. Importantly, the absence of significant leverage (outside of the government sector) and the early stage of the cycle suggest that the risks of an imminent bubble with systemic risks to the financial system and economies is relatively low."

The Goldman strategist was kind enough to remind readers that it's not just a figment of their imagination that things are bubble, as just one month ago China's top banking regulator Guo Shuging, Chairman of the Banking and Insurance Regulatory commission/party secretary of the central bank, said he was "very worried" about "emerging from bubbles in global financial markets and the nation's property sector... Bubbles in US and European markets could burst because their rallies are heading in the opposite direction of their underlying economies and will have to face corrections sooner or later,"

To counter the Chinese concern, Oppenheimer shows that while internet searches for the word financial bubble are rising, they are not at the levels that were seen in the run-up to the financial crisis (because google trends are more important than valuation metrics in the reddit age, perhaps).

So how does Goldman assess and measure the risk of a bubble - especially if the bank's apriori conviction is that there is no bubble - and is evidence of sharply rising asset prices and signs of speculative behavior the same as a bubble?

Well, the easiest thing one can do is look at history: here, as Goldman writes, despite widely varying economic conditions and social and political environments, history is littered with examples of bubbles. Some have had a broader and more far-reaching impact on the broader economy than others. Among the most notable broad-based bubbles that created significant economic consequences were:

- 1630s – The Tulip Mania in Holland
- 1720 – The South Sea Bubble in the UK, and the Mississippi Bubble in France
- 1790s – The Canal Mania in the UK
- 1840s – The Railway Bubble in the UK
- 1873 – The Railway Bubble in the US
- 1920s – The Stock Market Boom in the US
- 1980s – The Land and Stock Bubble in Japan
- 1990s – The Technology Bubble, Global
- 2007 – The Housing / Banking Bubble in the US (and Europe)

Here, Goldman generously inserts a chart...

... which is pretty and all, yet inexplicably fails to show the biggest bubble of all - that of central bank balance sheets. Maybe they just forgot, or they simply think their clients are all idiots, and as long as nobody mentions the $64 trillion elephant in the room, nobody will care.

But wait, it gets even dumber, because in the very next attempt to refute the existence of a bubble, Goldman says that there are only "a few" consistent hallmarks of financial bubbles, with the majority "characterized by many, if not most, of the following":

1. Excessive price appreciation & extreme valuations

2. New valuation approaches justified
3. Increased market concentration
4. Frantic speculation and investor flows
5. Easy credit, low rates & rising leverage
6. Booming corporate activity
7. New Era narrative and technology innovations
8. Late Cycle economic boom
9. The emergence of accounting scandals and irregularities

Hilariously, despite admitting that there are bubble signs of 7 out of 9 categories, Goldman claims there has been no emergence of accounting scandals and irregularities..

... even though it was Goldman itself that recently participated in the biggest sovereign bribery scandal of all time (Malaysia's 1MDB sovereign money laundering fund) where Goldman ended up paying \$3 billion for its orchestration of this massive corruption scandal.

If we had to summarize Goldman's thesis it would be that while pockets of exuberance and excessive price rises increase, they do not necessarily mean that a broader and systemically dangerous bubble is forming more broadly.

- In the S&P 500 -- the best- performing of the major equity markets -- the rise of the past few years has been impressive, particularly in technology, but it's not nearly as extreme as the explosive rise that accrued during the late 1990s
- Fundamental EPS for the leading technology companies and for the more widely owned retail stocks have significantly outstripped those of the rest of the market, so outperformance has been supported by superior growth and fundamentals
- The rally has been based on achieved reality, not purely on hope and possibility (Goldman must be referring to the 21x forward PE multiple here which is based on some form of "achieved" future reality).
- While high valuations imply lower longer- term returns, they don't point to a broad-based valuation bubble in equity markets

In any case, it was around point that we gave up on reading more of this drivel, and sent our condolences to the junior analysts who had to work a soul-crushing 100 hours a week (even though there are millions of 25-year-olds who would kill to work 200 hour weeks for half the pay of a Goldman analyst) to put this together.

That said, there is much more in the full 42-page report (available to professional subs in the usual place), but Goldman's goalseeked conclusion - in case it wasn't obvious - is that while there are signs of complacency and heightened optimism, the fundamental factors that drive the market and the early stage of the economic cycle would suggest a bubble or bear market are far away."

While there are pockets of excessive valuations in equities, and parts of the market are justifiably de-rating as interest rates adjust, in our assessment only a few of these common characteristics are currently present or being partially met. Importantly, the absence of significant leverage (outside of the government sector) and the early stage of the cycle suggest that the risks of an imminent bubble with systemic risks to the financial system and economies is relatively low.

Translation: there is a bubble, and it is the biggest Wall Street has ever seen, which is also why the current distribution phase which always takes place before the rug is pulled from under the market, is the biggest anyone has ever seen.

“...In my opinion, it’s much more common for show business to attract very insecure people. People who need approval. It’s not really known for attracting honest, down-to-earth, salt-of-the-earth folks, unless they’re on the crew.”

Young said she always felt that she was down-to-earth and straightforward with other people, but later realized that she may have been perceived as “offensive.”

“That was not my intention,” Young said. “I only got offensive later because I started getting pissed off, like, ‘This is serious. This is my career. You don’t just blacklist me.’ It’s terrible.”

After co-starring with Young in “The Boost” in 1988, James Woods filed a harassment lawsuit against her, which she eventually ended up winning. When asked why Woods was so vindictive, she said she learned that a rational person will never be able to understand an irrational person.

“I couldn’t wrap my head around it,” Young said. “It was so nutty and stupid, and a waste not only of my time but not good for himself. Why take all the attention off this movie and put it on this?”

The Daily Beast brought up a 2009 interview between Young and Carl Reiner, where Reiner said Young’s reputation had been unfairly smeared by a famous director. Asked if that director was Warren Beatty, Young said, “Warren was definitely one of them. Steven Spielberg was another.”

When asked if Beatty was “the worst of the bunch,” Young replied, “No... I think the sleazy or difficult part is that he probably thought he was treating me really well. You know what I’m saying? It’s not just Warren — it’s across the board. Ever since the movie business began, women have been treated as a commodity. There was always someone grabbing you, and I just ignored it. I mean, have you taken a look at Harvey Weinstein? How the fuck is he gonna get laid unless he has power? Never.”

Back in 2017, Young revealed that Weinstein exposed himself to her while working on the 1992 film “Love Crimes,” which was produced by Weinstein’s former company, Miramax. She told him, “I really wouldn’t be pulling that thing out because it’s really not pretty. Put that little thing away.” This is when she said she got a bad reputation for saying no.

“And you have to remember, someone that gross, think of who they really are inside,” Young said. “I think his game plan was: ‘Be as powerful as possible so I can get laid.’ That’s as simple as most of these plans are for people. It doesn’t get a lot deeper than that.”

When asked about the “incredibly aggressive and uncomfortable” love scene in “Blade Runner” that Young filmed with Harrison Ford, she said director Ridley Scott really wanted to date her, but she never reciprocated.

“He started dating the actress who played Zhora, Joanna Cassidy, and I felt relieved,” Young said. “And then we do this scene, and I think it was Ridley. I think Ridley was like, ‘fuck you.’ I was thinking, ‘Why did this have to be like that? What was the point of that?’ and I think it was Ridley’s none-too-subtle message that he was getting even with me.”

Young said Scott never hired her again, and when it came to “Blade Runner 2049,” the actress was handed a 30-second hologram cameo.

“Wasn’t that so full of shit?” Young said. “And there was nothing I could do about it. It was very clear that they knew that the audience would be upset that I wasn’t in it, but they didn’t want me to bitch about that publicly. So, they paid me some money, made me sign a non-disclosure agreement and gave me 30 seconds. And I was like, fine. They did give my son Quinn a job on ‘[Blade Runner] 2049’ in visual arts, and I said all was forgiven. He’s got great skills.”

Young discussed the time Charlie Sheen wrote the word “cunt” on a piece of tape and stuck it on her back while filming “Wall Street” in 1987. She said Sheen did a lot of cocaine on set and was “awful.” Additionally, she called Oliver Stone “a bastard” for reducing her role after she stuck up for Daryl Hannah, who was forced to wear a dress she didn’t feel comfortable in...”

The overrated ‘BERTRAND RUSSELL IS SO FULL OF S**T!

Here’s another example:

The acclaimed Bertrand Russell The-Problems-of-Philosophy Problems, indeed, so he just avoids the biggest ones; viz., ie., God, religion. Definitely overrated. Here’s another example of the overrated Russell: Concerning human history - from Titus “In his essay ‘A Free Man’s Workshop’ Bertrand Russell says that “man is the product of causes which had no prevision of the end they were achieving". The human venture, he says, is the outcome of "accidental collocations of atoms." Consequently, the whole edifice of man's achievement must eventually be "buried beneath the debris of a universe in ruins." (What total bulls**t!). Fortunately, Titus concludes "This is not the prevalent view of history and civilization among either philosophers or other students of human society."

Market Update for Tuesday - March 23rd, 2021

Albert, first things first - here's where the major markets ended today:

Today's Highlights:

- Stocks were sideways for most of the day. But with a sell off in the afternoon, stocks finished the day with losses. The DOW led the major indices lower, sliding 300 points in the afternoon to end the day with a 0.9% loss. It was the worst day for the DOW in the last 3 weeks.
- Caterpillar (CAT) led the DOW lower with a 3.4% loss.
- Travel stocks were some of the hardest hit after the World Health Organization (WHO) said that most regions in the world are seeing an increase in virus cases. To combat the new cases France entered a shutdown that began over the weekend. And Germany has decided to extend its lockdown until April 18th.
- Carnival (CCL) and Norwegian Cruise Lines (NCLH) suffered losses of more than 7.0%.
- American Airlines (AAL) lost 6.6% and United Airlines (UAL) dropped 6.8%.
- Today Fed Chair Jerome Powell and Treasury Secretary Yellen testified on Capitol Hill, but their testimony did little to move the market.

I got to the bottom line in jersey; ie., james florio, nj governor was mafia. Connie's brother was executed by the mafiosos that be. I'm glad I knew/know; and only lament collateral damage to those in the line of fire so to speak, but not by choice. This was all government protected stuff; hence, trump the mobster president. I have been fortunate in more ways than I can recount; but, this compromised amount must be paid and should have been resolved by prior administrations as I've set forth. Always easy on Reagan who extended a courtesy to me; while pressed in mobland jersey, I put $10,000 down on a 5th Ave., Washington Square, Village Studio, $78,000, Brodsky Org., wouldn't consummate, nor give my money back. Reagan sent a mechanic, broke all the pipes on top of their headquarters building. The water was still cascading down as I arrived the next day as they were awaiting my arrival with a check for the 10,000 which I used to go to Connecticut (Reagan's GE). If I had to guess, I believe trump had a dirty hand in foiling the 5th Ave. Coop deal. I have been fortunate to get out with my life. Clinton/Bush/Bush were up to their eyeballs in said drug runs and obama/holder just corrupt. You mention deep state which exists, to be sure. Yet it's the shallow state (local corrupt, multi-ethnic organized crime) falling in line with and carrying out deep state policy that perpetuates their grip on governmental and judicial processes. <http://www.albertpeia.com/CIAAgentAffidavit1.jpg>

We’ve done this math before, but we will return to it.

Imagine that there are 100 million automobiles sold in 2025. And imagine that automakers could make $2,000 on each one. That gives us a TOTAL POSSIBLE earnings base of $200 billion.

So to make sense of Cathie Wood’s price target of $3 trillion, at a reasonable price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio of 15, we also have to imagine that Volkswagen, Toyota, Audi... all 14 of the major automakers... somehow disappear, along with their 60 popular brands, leaving Tesla with 100% of the auto market, rather than just the 1% it has now.

[ I have to say this: Silicon Valley companies, “Silicon Valley Mafia”, well, that’s a bit of a stretch, not quite analogous to the new york/jersey guinea and, not to discriminate, russian (KGB) (among other ethnic groups) mafias; my experience with them, ie., paypal, robinhood, ebay, etc., invariably fraught with not so unintended “performance difficulties” (euphemistically speaking – but there’s the glitch-prone unintended consequences in no short supply as well). Oh yes, they’re smart, painfully neurotic, counting among their ranks the “Palo Alto overflow” (dropouts, ie., Stanford, etc.), and, for the nonce, symptomatically profitable, counting on a gullible, less intellectually endowed investing public. I’m far from impressed and won’t be jumping on a musky transport to Mars any time soon. In america, fraud and bulls**t sell; trump is a testament to that pathetic reality.

arrow up Crude Oil 59.20 +.55 +0.9%

arrow up Gold 1744.4 +15.6 +0.9%

*As of market close

- Stocks finished slightly lower today, after a choppy trading session. The DOW saw the biggest decline, down 0.3%. The S&P and NASDAQ snapped a 3-day win streak with today's drop.
- Airlines and cruise lines saw another nice trading day. Delta (DAL) jumped 2.8% and Norwegian Cruise Lines (NCLH) finished with a 4.6% gain.
- The JOLTS Job Opening (Job Openings and Labor Turnover Survey) report showed that job openings rose by 268,000 jobs to a 2-year high. The report is considered to be less significant than the Jobs Report released last week. But it's said that the FED does keep an eye on these numbers.
- Fighting words? Roth Capital slammed Tesla (TSLA) with an investor's note on Monday, saying the company is only worth $150 a share and that the automaker is just a "minor player" in U.S. and European markets. But Tesla traders didn't seem to care much for the report. The stock finished the day just slightly higher with a 0.1% gain.
- Paychex (PAYX) lost 4.9% after reporting better than expected earnings but disappointing future guidance.

- It's a quiet week for the economic calendar. But tomorrow's FOMC Meeting Minutes at 2pm ET is arguably the biggest report of the week.
- Next week big banks will kick off earnings season.

Eric Holder spent six years as attorney general, and failed to prosecute banks for their criminal wrongdoing or put any bank executives behind bars. Now, he's set to rejoin his old white-collar criminal defense firm, making millions each year helping Wall Street bankers avoid criminal consequences. Worse, it was just reported that the firm, Covington & Burling, has kept an empty 11th floor corner office for Holder awaiting his return. Combined with Holder's purchase a year ago of a $1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm even while it continued to represent companies under Department of Justice investigation. If the firm and Holder agreed on a future job offer, that alone could violate criminal laws. ..."

“...Arbitrary Rearrangement of Wealth”

(except it's not arbitrary; but rather fraud/scam)

“When money is no object, no object is too asinine to spend it on.

Economist John Maynard Keynes described it in 1919:

By a continuing process of inflation, governments can confiscate, secretly and unobserved, an important part of the wealth of their citizens. By this method they not only confiscate, but they confiscate arbitrarily; and, while the process impoverishes many, it actually enriches some. The sight of this arbitrary rearrangement of riches strikes not only at security but [also] at confidence in the equity of the existing distribution of wealth.

[...]. As the inflation proceeds and the real value of the currency fluctuates wildly from month to month, all permanent relations between debtors and creditors, which form the ultimate foundation of capitalism, become so utterly disordered as to be almost meaningless; and the process of wealth-getting degenerates into a gamble and a lottery. Some get rich from the government's “arbitrary rearrangement” of wealth. Those on the receiving end – contractors, connivers, and cronies – do well.

But the disorder soon spreads to the rest of the economy, where money itself... and the process of getting and spending it... becomes a joke..."

Analysis by Chris Cillizza, CNN Editor-at-large

Updated 6:42 AM ET, Wed April 21, 2021

(CNN)On Monday night, former President Donald Trump sat down with Fox News' Sean Hannity for his first on-camera interview since leaving the White House in January.

I use the word "interview" lightly here because what Hannity did in his capacity as a "journalist" was something short of asking tough questions of a public figure. It was more like having a few beers with an old friend who you were hoping might help you get a job one day.

I went through the transcript -- you're welcome in advance! -- and pulled out the best(?) lines. They're below.

1. "Well, we're seeing a lot of people. We're seeing a lot of good Republicans and a lot of good Americans, in some cases, great Americans. And we are working very hard."

What was the question from Hannity that elicited this response? "You were working as hard as you did when you were in the White House, except you play a little golf more, that you're keeping an insane schedule, seven days a week. You really don't stop." And away we go!

2. "You get impeached for doing nothing wrong. Then you get a second impeachment for doing nothing wrong."

The first impeachment was because Trump asked a foreign power to investigate the son of a political rival and hinted that the country owed him that because of all the aid America provided. The second was because Trump egged on a crowd that went on to stage a violent insurrection at the US Capitol that left five people dead. So, yeah, "nothing wrong."

3. "And I think we're -- you're going to see something that will start to take place in '22 and will culminate in '24."

Well, this sure sounds like Trump is running again, no?

4. "But I had an instance where on a slippery, slippery ramp, piece of steel, very steep and very long, no railings, no nothing, and it was pouring at West Point. And the last thing I want to do is go down because when Gerald Ford went down, it was not good."

So we're back on the ramp thing now?

5. "Well, Air Force One is a very big plane. And usually, what they try and do is shield the wind. You know, when they park it you can turn it in angles and so you don't ever have too much. I've never seen too much wind."

6. "Nobody was tougher on Russia. And frankly, getting along with Vladimir Putin is a good thing. And I got along with him very well."

"Trump sides with Putin over US intelligence" -- July 16, 2018

7. "So now something's going on with Taiwan. Something maybe is going on with Ukraine. This never was a big subject when I was president."

Something's happening here. What it is ain't exactly clear ...

8. "I have a great relationship with a certain man that's got great power over North Korea."

Who could it be? This game is fun!

9. "The Russian hoax was very, very bad for the relationship that we would have with Russia."

So, uh, it wasn't a hoax. Like, at all.

10. "The wall, getting the wall built and the wall we -- we're up to almost 500 miles and completing it was very easy."

Know what wasn't easy? Getting Mexico to pay for it. Which they didn't.

11. "The wall is imperative. All of the things that go with the wall, the technology that goes into the wall and with the wall is so imperative."

So, if I am reading this right, the wall -- I think -- is imperative?

12. "One other thing, they're sending us not their best people. They are sending us people that, in many cases, not in all cases, are murderers, drug dealers, human traffickers, and really bad -- rapists, really bad people."

Yes, Trump really said this about Mexico.

And yes, it is almost exactly what he said in his announcement speech for president in 2015, which went like this: "When Mexico sends its people, they're not sending their best. They're not sending you. They're not sending you. They're sending people that have lots of problems, and they're bringing those problems with us. They're bringing drugs. They're bringing crime. They're rapists. And some, I assume, are good people." This time around, Trump didn't add the "good people" part, though.

13. "Very simple, more liberty, more freedom, of belief in the Constitution, lower taxes, less bureaucracy, constitutionalists on the bench. You want secure borders, legal immigration, energy independence. You believe in law and order, safety and security for every American. Simple stuff. School choice."

This word salad is Trump's answer to what the "Trump agenda" for the future looks like. Very reassuring!

14. "So many different things that -- look, we got 75 million votes. It's more than any sitting president in history by far."

OK, this is the actual transition Trump made. He was talking (and talking) about the Trump agenda and then -- whammo! -- right into the whole thing about how many votes he got in 2020. Super normal!

15. "I don't know if you know, Sean, usually in a second term a president gets less votes. I got 12 million more. It's the biggest that's ever happened in history, from 63 to 75. Never happened before. And all of these things are good."

I, just, uh, I have no idea what to say here. I will say that I, too, like good things.

16. "And I don't know if Joe knows what's going on with it, because I think you have a cabal, you have a group of people that are sitting around a table just saying do this, do this, do this. They're giving him these things to sign. It's hard to believe."

OK, so there is a "cabal" of people just giving a clueless President Biden "things to sign?" That IS hard to believe!

17. "We were supposed to lose 25 seats. I got involved. I called 56 different districts. And we ended up picking up 16 instead of losing 25."

Uh, it's not that simple.

18. "Lisa Murkowski is a disaster. I mean, she's a total disaster."

... said the former REPUBLICAN President of the United States.

19. "And I was making calls getting congressmen elected."

Tell me more about these magical calls ...

20. "We've expanded the Republican Party."

"Quarterly Gap in Party Affiliation Largest Since 2012" -- Gallup, April 7, 2021

21. "But I'm at 128 and two when I endorse people, 128 and two."

But who's counting?!

22. "You know, I cut taxes more than any president's ever cut taxes."
For the BILLIONTH time: He did not.

23. "We did a great job. We got very little credit for the great job we've done."

Donald Trump on his handling of the Covid-19 pandemic. Yes, really.

24. "I'll give you a little breaking news. Pfizer is in with the FDA. And what the FDA did with Johnson & Johnson is so stupid."

["BREAKING NEWS" banner] "Pfizer is in with the FDA." And, no, I have no idea what he is talking about either.

25. "I said, they want me to do a commercial, some commercial. And they do this pause."

Trump seems to be suggesting here that "they" (the Biden administration? the FDA?) wanted him to film a commercial telling people to make sure to get the Covid-19 vaccine, but he said no because the Johnson & Johnson vaccine was paused? Or something?

26. "You know, I can be liked by everybody. But I won't be doing a good job."

Important note: Trump is no longer president.

27. "I think it's very suspect is what they did with Johnson & Johnson, because the only people that are happy about that are Pfizer and Moderna. The only people that are happy about that because what they did is a terrible, terrible thing."

Trump is suggesting -- with zero evidence -- that Pfizer and Moderna are somehow responsible for the pause in the J&J vaccine. Man, this conspiracy goes deeper than I even thought!

28. "I tell you that at least eight senators would have lost their race. I could name them but I don't want to embarrass them but that includes Mitch, who is heading south."

The idea that Mitch McConnell would have lost without Trump's support is, candidly, laughable.

29. "And I'm very popular in Kentucky. I love Kentucky. And they love me."

"I love lamp." -- Brick Tamland

30. "Look, almost everybody I endorse wins."

Paging DJ Khaled ...

31. "But you know what, I love doing it because I help people. And I've helped them more than any president with the cutting of taxes, with the regulations, with right to try."

Trump on what he loved about the White House. You owe him, America! Bigly.

32. "And I've added something called Space Force. It's going to be so powerful, so important."

Mars Awaits!

33. "I got tremendous numbers. Nobody has ever gotten the numbers I got. No sitting president has come even close. There's more popularity now than there was the day before the election because they see how bad things are at the border."

This is Trump's answer to whether he is running again in 2024. I like this as his slogan for that race: "I got tremendous numbers. Nobody has ever gotten the numbers I got." It could work!

34. "I got along great with President Putin. I liked him. He liked me. That's a good thing, not a bad thing."

Now, he's set to rejoin his old white-collar criminal defense firm, making millions each year helping Wall Street bankers avoid criminal consequences. Worse, it was just reported that the firm, Covington & Burling, has kept an empty 11th floor corner office for Holder awaiting his return. Combined with Holder's purchase a year ago of a $1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm even while it continued to represent companies under Department of Justice investigation.  I have to say this: Silicon Valley companies, “Silicon Valley Mafia”, well, that’s a bit of a stretch, not quite analogous to the new york/jersey guinea and, not to discriminate, russian (KGB) (among other ethnic groups) mafias; my experience with them, ie., paypal, robinhood, ebay, etc., invariably fraught with not so unintended “performance difficulties” (euphemistically speaking – but there’s the glitch-prone unintended consequences in no short supply as well). Oh yes, they’re smart, painfully neurotic, counting among their ranks the “Palo Alto overflow” (dropouts, ie., Stanford, etc.), and, for the nonce, symptomatically profitable, counting on a gullible, less intellectually endowed investing public. [Authored by Matthew Piepenburg via GoldSwitzerland.com.

“Below, we consider two well-known names in modern markets, former Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan, and current value investing legend, Jeremy Grantham, co-founder of GMO Investment Strategies.

Years ago, I sat down with Jeremy Grantham in an office overlooking Boston Harbor to not only consider an investment in his fund, but to absorb the insights of a blunt-spoken observer of market risk.

Greenspan: Productivity Decline Signals Slower Growth Ahead

Greenspan Sees Next Recession Driven by `Dramatically Rising Debt

Greenspan Says Nobody Forecast the 2008 Financial Crisis

Greenspan Sees Signs of Stagflation, Threats to U.S. Economy

Such blunt-speak, as I've written elsewhere, is a rare trait among the cadres of otherwise high-profile wealth managers whose incentives and survival are often predicated more upon selling hope than speaking to risk—the equivalent of being a whistleblower among a financial advisory complex driven largely by the gathering of fees rather than the reporting (and managing) of risk.

Almost a decade later, I'm still listening to Mr. Grantham and strongly recommend that others do the same.

A Market Bubble of Epic Proportions

Although it should come as no surprise to anyone who has tracked market history as well as market valuations, Mr. Grantham is one among only a handful of credible portfolio managers who have openly confessed that US markets are (and have been for some time) experiencing a market bubble of “epic proportions.”

In short: This ought to mean something.

As a keen tracker of both markets and market history, Mr. Grantham is no less confident and no less blunt in warning those who will listen that such epic bubbles always, and without exception, lead to equally epic busts.

We, of course, feel no differently, and have been warning of this bubble-to-bust cycle for years—not as “gold bugs” or “doom and gloomers,” but simply as market participants who can both count and read...”

[ I have to say this: Silicon Valley companies, “Silicon Valley Mafia”, well, that’s a bit of a stretch, not quite analogous to the new york/jersey guinea and, not to discriminate, russian (KGB) (among other ethnic groups) mafias; my experience with them, ie., paypal, robinhood, ebay, etc., invariably fraught with not so unintended “performance difficulties” (euphemistically speaking – but there’s the glitch-prone unintended consequences in no short supply as well). Oh yes, they’re smart, painfully neurotic, counting among their ranks the “Palo Alto overflow” (dropouts, ie., Stanford, etc.), and, for the nonce, symptomatically profitable, counting on a gullible, less intellectually endowed investing public. I’m far from impressed and won’t be jumping on a musky transport to Mars any time soon. In america, fraud and bulls**t sell; trump is a testament to that pathetic reality.

Bonner

“...Arbitrary Rearrangement of Wealth”

(except it's not arbitrary; but rather fraud/scam)

“When money is no object, no object is too asinine to spend it on.

Economist John Maynard Keynes described it in 1919:

By a continuing process of inflation, governments can confiscate, secretly and unobserved, an important part of the wealth of their citizens. By this method they not only confiscate, but they confiscate arbitrarily; and, while the process impoverishes many, it actually enriches some. The sight of this arbitrary rearrangement of riches strikes not only at security but [also] at confidence in the equity of the existing distribution of wealth.

[...]. As the inflation proceeds and the real value of the currency fluctuates wildly from month to month, all permanent relations between debtors and creditors, which form the ultimate foundation of capitalism, become so utterly disordered as to be almost meaningless; and the process of wealth-getting degenerates into a gamble and a lottery

Some get rich from the government's “arbitrary rearrangement” of wealth. Those on the receiving end – contractors, connivers, and cronies – do well.

But the disorder soon spreads to the rest of the economy, where money itself... and the process of getting and spending it... becomes a joke...”

ZEROHEDGE.COM Stocks Extend Losses After Yellen Says "Rates Will Have To Rise" *"It may be that interest rates will have to rise a little bit to make sure our economy doesn't overheat"

Flash crash - 11 years later...and things look similar

US Factory Orders Disappoint In March

Bonner <https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/the-latest-big-business-strategy/> :

"...Companies create wealth by earning profits – from making and doing things. They take raw materials at a cost of X... add labor at a cost of Y... and sell the finished product at a price of Z.

As long as X plus Y (we're simplifying) is lower than Z, the world is a richer place. They have "added value."

Financial Trickery

But the Federal Reserve has been actively inflating the financial economy (asset prices) while depressing the real Main Street economy (sales, wages, and profits) for at least 30 years.

So, the relative importance and profitability of delivering products and services – compared to the quick, leveraged pizzazz of Wall Street – has declined.

That's why mommas now want their babies to grow up and work for Goldman Sachs in New York, not for Mainline Manufacturing in Gary, Indiana.

And even CEOs of old-school industrial companies are tempted to try financial tricks. Stock buybacks, for example.

Companies routinely buy "sales" by acquiring other companies for their sales volume. Typically, they buy at lowish, private-market prices... and then get the advantage of a highish public company valuation.

So, the higher the stock market goes, the greater the appeal of buying someone else's sales and profits.

The S&P 500 currently has a price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio of 42... the third highest in history. Big companies borrow at about 3% (the yield on the most creditworthy AAA debt). The inflation rate is about 2%... and moving up.

So, if you can buy a company at 10 times earnings, those earnings will be worth four times as much in your big company.

And if you can borrow at a real interest cost of 1% – adjusted for inflation – the deal should be a big winner for you. You, as CEO, should get a big bonus.

Buying your own shares back is not exactly like acquiring another company. Except that it, too, can give your shareholders more sales (and profits) per share, a higher stock price... and a bonus for the CEO.

Plausibly Absurd

But why stop there?

For instance – and this is merely a hypothetical of our own creation – if a company can make itself more valuable by borrowing money to buy its own stock, maybe it could boost sales and profits by borrowing to buy its own products?

In the digital economy, marginal additional sales can have a nearly 100% profit margin. Certainly, even in the old economy, if a company doesn't have to provide a product, its margin might be near 100%, too.

So, imagine a company that borrows $1 billion at 3%... and uses the money to buy its own products.

It has no manufacturing cost, no labor cost, and no delivery charges. No customer service or refund obligation. This will be the best business the company ever did.

Yes, it is absurd... but so are a lot of things that are actually happening... that we'll get to in a minute.

And yes, in this confection, the company will have to pay $30 million in interest. But this increase in sales and profits would be multiplied into $42 billion ($1 billion more in profit x P/E of 42) in extra share value.

Shareholders would be delighted. The momentum traders and the Reddit crowd would get excited and probably bid the shares up to twice that much.

We might assume a $50 billion capital boost... at a price of only $30 million in annual debt service costs. Not a penny of real-world, Main Street, goods and services' wealth will have been created. But everybody would get rich.

In other words, the maneuver would be shockingly profitable. We're waiting to see someone try it.

Of course, the idea is idiotic. But it is at least absurd in a plausible kind of way... that is, within the range of reason, as an insane person might imagine it.

[Featured: Trading Legend Shares His Latest Breakthrough]
Lunatic Business Strategy

The trouble with the imagination is that it is limited by plausibility. Real life is not. So, if you want to read something really, truly bizarre... just read the financial news.

Read about MicroStrategy CEO Michael Saylor, for example. Or Tesla's Elon Musk.

Musk is, well, Musk. But Saylor pretends to be a sane person.

We first noticed Saylor when he said something newsworthily stupid 20 years ago. "Information wants to be free," was the expression.

It, and a lot of other dubious bons mots from Saylor, helped persuade a generation of dreamers that every cockamamie company with ".com" at the end of it would be worth a fortune.

It didn't work out as planned. The Nasdaq peaked out in February 2000 and didn't recover until 17 years later.

But now, Saylor's back, and still at the head of his company, MicroStrategy (MSTR). His strategy now is neither to buy other companies whose sales and profits could be incorporated into his own... nor to buy his own products... nor even to make money by providing goods or services, at all... but to make money by buying bitcoin.

We don't argue that this is a bad bet – for all we know, bitcoin will go up.

Our point is that it is a lunatic business strategy. And symptomatic of a crackpot economy.

Risky Strategy

Saylor's business has been on the decline for more than five years. But rather than think up new products and services that he could offer customers, Saylor borrowed nearly a billion dollars... to buy the cryptocurrency.

So far, this has been a great success. His company, previously worth about $2 billion... is now valued at $6 billion – which is about $1 billion more than the current value of his bitcoins.

Which part of this makes no sense? Borrowing money to buy a famously volatile and risky thing? Turning your company into a bag of those things? Or the fact that the bag is now worth more than the value of all the things in it?

We don't know. But here's Saylor's update on "information wants to be free"...

Bitcoin is a swarm of cyber hornets serving the goddess of wisdom, feeding on the fire of truth, exponentially growing ever smarter, faster, and stronger behind a wall of encrypted energy.

[Featured: The One Big Threat You Face in 2021] Catching On

But wait. There's more. The idea is catching on... with – who else? – Elon Musk.

The South African wunderkind announced Tesla (TSLA) earnings last week. You might expect that a company that makes automobiles... and loses about $2,000 on each one of them... might have some grim news to share. But you would be wrong.

This is the Bubble Epoch, remember. As long as the fake money flows – $9 trillion and counting – nothing needs to make sense.

Budgets don't have to balance... Companies don't need to earn money...

Governments can claim to control the Earth's temperature... Non-companies (here, we think of the whole cryptocosm) can be worth $2 trillion...

And kids no longer have to go out into the world to make their fortunes; now, they can do it from Mom's basement.

**--

Bait the Hook

But back to Elon...

While Tesla lost money making cars, at least it made money speculating on bitcoin. More than $100 million. That, and money from various environmental credits, enabled TSLA to report a profit last week – of 93 cents per share.

So what's crazy about that?

At this stage of the Bubble Epoch, 40% of the companies on the Russell 2000 are losing money.

But investors have never been more enthusiastic.

And here we offer some advice to the Pied Piper of tech investing himself – the aforementioned Elon Musk.

Instead of buying and selling bitcoin... why not just buy and sell (also known as pump and dump) MicroStrategy (MSTR)? Buy some stock. Explain in a tweet that it is a superior way to own the cryptocurrency, since you can depend on Michael Saylor to remember the passcode.

Then, as the Reddit crowd goes into a panic buying MSTR, you wait.

When the price has doubled, sell. And report another profit for the next quarter.

Stay tuned...

Regards,

Ivanka Trump, Donald Trump Jr. and Eric Trump — three of ex-President Donald Trump's adult children — continue to stick taxpayers with the cost of their Secret Service protection.

They racked up more than $140,000 in charges in the first month following President Joe Biden's inauguration on Jan. 20, according to watchdog group Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington, which analyzed Secret Service spending records obtained under the Freedom of Information Act.

Agents protecting Trump's progeny spent $52,296.75 on travel and $88,678.39 on hotel costs during the 30-day period, including on trips to Salt Lake City, Miami and New York, the group said Wednesday.

It works out to around $4,699 per day.

And the total costs to taxpayers could be even higher, because the Secret Service "did not provide records of spending at Trump businesses, which is the most controversial aspect of the extended protection," CREW added.

That the Trump offspring can benefit from publicly funded security details at all is down to their father's six-month extension of their protection following his departure from the White House.

Only the ex-president, former first lady Melania Trump and their son Barron, 15, are entitled to automatic protection.

Trump, however, extended the perk to his aforementioned kids (plus youngest daughter Tiffany Trump) and their partners in the final days of his administration.

"While it may be tempting to put the story of the Trump family's profiteering in the past, we cannot until they have actually stopped directing taxpayer money into their own bank accounts," said the group, which has long exposed instances of taxpayer money being funneled to Trump properties. "Thanks to Trump's unusual extension of their protection, they've got a few more months to continue the grift." "

Bill Bonner | May 8, 2021 | Bill Bonner's Diary | 5 min read

Emma's Note: Emma Walsh here, managing editor of the Diary.

"Bill and his colleague at The Bonner-Denning Letter, Dan Denning, are sounding the alarm about the imminent demise of the U.S. dollar.

The results of the feds' never-ending money-printing are evident in rising commodities prices, rising stock markets, and rising U.S. Treasury yields.

Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen and Fed chief Jerome Powell say they have everything under control. Nothing to see here.

But Bill believes their moment of truth is fast approaching... Will they do the right thing?

Or will they fire up the printing presses, pump even more money into the system, and let the dollar die?

Yes, inflation is here. It is showing up all over the place – in commodities, food, housing, and fuel.

I recently received this list from my Bonner-Denning Letter coauthor Dan Denning. It shows the increases over the last 12 months in these commodities:

Lumber: +265%

West Texas Intermediate Crude: +210%

Gasoline: +182%

Brent Crude: +163%

Heating oil: +107%

Corn: +84%

Copper: +83%

Soybeans: +72%

Silver: +65%

Sugar: +59%

Cotton: +54%

Natural gas: +43%

Platinum +52%

Palladium: +32%

Wheat: +19%

Coffee: +13%

Of course, if you don't eat, live in a house, or go anywhere, you might not even notice. But the rest of us should prepare.

All Under Control

One of the things we've been thinking about is how hard it is to think about inflation. Everywhere you look, there is someone telling you not to bother.

Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen has the economy figured out. The Federal Reserve has the financial system under control. The Biden team is busy building a better world for us to enjoy.

And if you want to get rich, you just wait for Elon Musk (the business-mogul-turned-Twitter-sensation) to mention something... and you buy it.

What a surprise it will be to us all when the whole fantasy collapses in a heap.

No Ordinary Downturn

And yes, that's what you should expect. Coming soon is no ordinary, cyclical downturn... in which interest rates head up and stock prices head down.

In a healthy economy, you might expect that. Things to go up and down. With stock prices at or near an all-time high, a bear market should come along in the normal course of business. Nothing to get alarmed about.

So should the bond market begin a long trend of rising yields. They've been going down for the last 40 years... It's about time they turned around.

What we're looking at now is something much more sinister. Many years ago, we guessed that no pure-paper currency could survive a full interest rate cycle.

From bottom to top and back to bottom, a full cycle puts the monetary system... as well as the moral strength of the people who run it... to the test.

As for the latter, we have low hopes.

We've already seen the authorities pump up the money supply in three panics so far this century. They've brought the Fed's balance sheet to a total of $7.8 trillion.

Each time, they were able to drive yields down a little further.

But the bull market in bonds seems to have hit bedrock on August 4, 2020, with the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond at 0.51%.

Since then, yields have been rising. And now, the 10-year trades around 1.6%.

Moment of Truth

Whether last August was the final bottom for yields, we don't know yet. But sooner or later, yields will rise further, and things will start to get tough.

The U.S. has total debt of more than $80 trillion. Even a small increase in interest rates will make it hard to refinance.

Consumer prices will rise, too, with the Consumer Price Index (CPI) headed over 5%... and then over 10%. Not necessarily tomorrow, but it will happen.

Meanwhile, stocks will fall. The economy will go into a recession/depression.

And then, the moment of truth will be at hand.

In another panic, with all Hell breaking loose around them, the feds will have a choice to make...

They can protect the dollar and let the correction continue. Or they can pump more money into the system and let the dollar (and the current paper-money system) die.

Money-Printing Spree

This is the sort of choice that a gold-backed currency (as the dollar was until 1971) was meant to avoid.

People found out centuries ago that humans couldn't be trusted with money. In a moment of stress or greed, they would "print" more of it.

But you can't readily increase the supply of gold. So in a crisis, the authorities would have no choice. They'd have to forgo their hopes of being lauded as a "hero," and ignore the cries for help. They'd have to admit they have no help to give.

But this time is different. With a few keystrokes, the Fed can create trillions in new money. And in the next crisis – as in the last – they will not hesitate.

Even fairly routine setbacks for the stock market (in 2008 and again in 2020) were enough to send the Fed into a money-printing paroxysm.

Worldwide, over the last 12 months alone, central banks and central governments provided some $27 trillion in additional liquidity through deficits and money-printing credits.

Inflation Be Damned!

So try to imagine what will happen next.

The next crash could wipe out the crypto market – for $2 trillion in losses.

And merely bringing U.S. stock prices down to historically more "normal" price-to-earnings (P/E) levels would mean a loss of at least $15 trillion.

Imagine how Wall Street would shriek and howl. Imagine how Congress would demand action.

Imagine the columnists... the economists... the lobbyists... and the wags, all screaming for more money.

Imagine Yellen and Fed chief Jerome Powell, their knees quaking, their backs limp, and their minds mushy...

Could they defy the financiers and the federales and stand behind the greenback, like former Fed chair Paul Volcker did? Would they “stop the presses” and let the chips fall where they may?

Not a chance. They would print more money. Inflation be damned!

And soon, the graveyard of fake money would open its gates.

There, greeting the post-1971 dollar, will be the German mark, the Zimbabwe dollar, the Argentine austral, and hundreds of other failed currencies.

Regards,

OH ELON!

By Bill Bonner <https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/>

Monday, May 10, 2021

YOUGHAL, IRELAND – "When we left you on Friday, the excitement was building. Dogecoin was moving up... up... up... for a 14,000% gain so far this year.

Fans expected Tesla CEO Elon Musk – heretofore Dogecoin's biggest enthusiast – to mention the crypto coin on nationwide TV when he hosted Saturday Night Live, which would take it even higher.

Mr. Musk moves markets. He only has to whisper the name of a stock and it doubles or triples.

In January, a tweet in which he said to "Use Signal" was followed by a 11,700% increase in the price of Signal Advance, a healthcare company he had never heard of. (Elon was referring to a messaging app called Signal.)

In another famous incident, also in January, Elon tweeted "Gamestonk!!" (stonk is a hip, ironic way of referring to stocks). The stock of GameStop went up 157% in after-hours trading.

As for cryptos, Elon can send any of them “to the moon.”

Gone Short

Adding to the dramatic tension, on Saturday, just hours before SNL went on the air, one of Dogecoin’s biggest supporters turned against it. “We’ve gone short,” signaled Barry Silbert. Here’s MarketWatch:

Barry Silbert, a power player in the digital-asset sector, said he’s betting against dogecoin and is urging investors in one of the hottest trades in 2021 to convert their doge holdings into bitcoin.

The missive from Silbert comes as the chief executive of Tesla Inc. and SpaceX and one of dogecoin’s most vocal champions, Elon Musk, is set to guest host NBC’s late night comedy sketch show “Saturday Night Live.”

Remember the old Wall Street advice: Buy the rumor. Sell the news.

Well, when Elon made his SNL appearance, look what happened. From CNBC:

As Elon Musk – the self-proclaimed “Dogefather” – made his “Saturday Night Live” debut, the price of dogecoin fell off a cliff.

The meme-inspired cryptocurrency fell as much as 29.5%, dropping to 49 cents at one point. Musk mentioned dogecoin in his opening monologue and on “Weekend Update,” SNL’s satirical news show. In a Q&A with hosts Michael Che and Colin Hanks, Musk called himself the “Dogefather,” said dogecoin was a “hustle,” and howled, “To the moon,” a catchphrase popular among doge enthusiasts intent on driving the value of the cryptocurrency to one dollar.

All in good fun.

Wealth Killers

Meanwhile... the hustle over at the Federal Reserve would be more fun, too, if they weren’t destroying the country.

Yes, as we pointed out last week, the Fed has turned investors – both public and private – into active shooters.

In the private sector, they're wasting their ammunition firing away at the Doge... NFTs... SPACs... Tesla... MicroStrategy... GameStop... celebrity sneakers, and other attractive nuisances.

And in the public sector, they're spending trillions on "investments" that are nothing more than boondoggles, bamboozles, and bribes.

Together, they're whacking real investment in real businesses that satisfy real customers and add real wealth to the society.

And here, we offer a single sentence to explain the decline and fall of civilizations: The more time, energy, and resources you spend on things that don't matter, the less you have available for those that do.

So when the Robinhood traders are chasing after the Doge, they're not learning electrical engineering, building houses, or investing in companies that add useful products and services.

Likewise, when the feds announce new programs to redirect $4 trillion down their favorite rabbit holes, they're going to waste a big part of the nation's wealth.

And if trigger-happy "investors" get word of any slowdown in money-printing... public or private... they'll go on a rampage.

Nail in the Coffin

Last Tuesday, Janet Yellen told The Atlantic magazine that interest rates may have to go up:

It may be that interest rates will have to rise somewhat to make sure our economy doesn't overheat.

Within seconds, Janet was back down on the ground as the shooters opened fire. Here's Business Insider:

Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen caused a minor freak-out on Wall Street on Tuesday when she raised the prospect that the Federal Reserve might have to hike interest rates to tame inflation in the wake of a large increase in government spending.

Yet Yellen rapidly rowed back her comments, saying at the Wall Street Journal's CEO council summit later in the day: "I don't think there's going to be an inflationary problem."

Then, on Friday, came further bad news for the real economy... and good news for the "investors." The latest jobs report came up... uh oh... 734,000 jobs short. Business Insider again:

The country's count of nonfarm payrolls grew by 266,000 last month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics announced Friday. The median estimate from economists surveyed by Bloomberg was for a payroll gain of 1 million. The April jump marks a fourth consecutive month of payroll increases but the smallest since September.

Also, March's gain was significantly revised downward to 770,000 from 916,000, further eroding the recently bullish outlook toward the labor market's recovery.

The missing jobs put a "nail in the coffin" for the U.S. dollar, says Wells Fargo's Erik Nelson. It shows the recovery is failing... and guarantees more money-printing.

But at least Elon and his merry pranksters are enjoying the dollar's wake. This morning comes news that he'll fund his mission to the moon with – what else? – Dogecoin!

Onward Elon! Onward stonks! Onward cryptos!

To the moooonn!! "

Regards,

YOUGHAL, IRELAND – "Oh my... look up.

There it is. Our old, tattered Black & Blue...

Our trusty "Crash Alert" flag, proudly signaling the alarm.

Yesterday, we saw consumer prices moving up. And we saw how the supply of "money" is far outstripping the supply of goods and services you buy with it.

So far this century, the Federal Reserve's balance sheet (a rough way of keeping track of the supply of dollars) rose 15 times. U.S. GDP (an equally approximate measure of output) only doubled.

That is the classic definition of inflation.

Today, we're going to look at what kind of inflation it is... and how long it will be with us.

Is it "transitory," caused by a booming recovery and trillions in stimmy money?

Or has it come with big suitcases and its favorite pillow... as if it intends to stay?

Crash Alert!

Our Doom Index is registering an 8 – which is Crash Alert territory.

We created the Doom Index a number of years ago to improve on our (often faulty) intuition. It tracks 12 key indicators to try to detect when there are dangerous excesses in the economy and markets are out of whack.

Yes, you can see the full report on the latest Doom Index Reading here. But here's the short version from our ace research team:

The first chart below shows our Doom Index levels by quarter. The red bars indicate a reading of 8 or higher. That's when we raise our “crash alert” flag and tell investors it's time to prepare for a market crash.

The last time we raised our “crash alert” flag was at the end of Q2 2019, when the Doom Index hit 8. We stayed in the “Danger Zone” for the next four quarters.

Economic conditions improved slightly in the second half of 2020, as evidenced by our Doom Index reading dropping to 7 for Q3 2020 and Q4 2020...

Our recent Doom Index reading – based on the Q1 2021 data – is 8...
image

...which means we're raising our tattered “crash alert” flag.
image

[...]it appears that the stock market is getting way ahead of the economy...

Nearly all stock market valuations are at all-time highs, investors are using more leverage, junk bonds are looking riskier, and of course... the feds keep printing.

[Featured: New Investment “Craze” Hits All 50 States]

Meanwhile, we looked at some of the inflation sightings yesterday. Here's The Wall Street Journal with more:

Americans accustomed to years of low inflation are beginning to pay sharply higher prices for goods and services as the economy strains to rev back up and the pandemic wanes.

Price tags on consumer goods from processed meat to dishwashing products have risen by double-digit percentages from a year ago, according to NielsenIQ. Whirlpool Corp. freezers and dishwashers and Scotts Miracle-Gro Co. lawn and garden products are also getting costlier, the companies say. Some consumers are feeling stretched.

No Big Deal

But don’t worry. Jerome Powell at the Federal Reserve and Janet Yellen at the U.S. Treasury both assure us that inflation is no big deal.

The Fed is still “printing” $120 billion per month... trying to overcome the “low inflation” threat.

According to Powell, the nation’s economic health is threatened not by inflation, but by the lack of it... that is, by persistent Consumer Price

Index (CPI) readings below 2%. He thinks stable prices somehow inhibit growth.

As for Yellen, she believes the feds can hit whatever pitch comes their way. Here's what she confidently told a Wall Street Journal CEO Council event last week:

I don't think there's going to be an inflationary problem. But if there is, the Fed will be counted on to address them.

That settles it for us. Nothing to be concerned about. There is no inflation. And if there were any, just as a hypothetical, the Fed would smash it out of the ballpark.

And Ms. Yellen should know. She used to run the Fed.

[Featured: Biden, Elites Set to Roll Out Elites' "Great Reset" of America] Intellectual Exercise

But... just in case – not that we're doubting Ms. Yellen... or second-guessing the Fed – but just as an intellectual exercise, for our amusement...

...what if they're all not really up to playing in the Major Leagues? What if they are better suited to the Special Olympics?

Before last Friday's jobs report came out, Ms. Yellen suggested that interest rates might have to go up to contain rising price inflation, caused by a robust recovery. That is, she said she was concerned about "overheating," whatever that is.

Then, after stocks began to fall, she backtracked, letting the speculators know that she didn't really mean it. In the space of less than 24 hours, she determined that the economy's temperature was just right after all.

She must have breathed a sigh of relief on Friday. The employment numbers made it clear that the economy is not heating up; it's cooling off.

Phew! This takes the pressure off Yellen and Powell to "address" the inflation issue.

But only by misunderstanding the nature of the inflation – which both Ms. Yellen and Mr. Powell are eager to do.

More like “Marvelous” Marv Throneberry than “Boog” Powell, both want to win the game... but neither has any idea how to play it.

They believe that inflation is purely cyclical, caused by rising demand in an expanding economy. (They also believe they can cause the economy to expand by pretending, that is, by inflating the money supply to look like real demand is increasing.)

My stock portfolio is up/down single or double digits. My crypto portfolio is up 785%. Who cares whether I make my money at DraftKings or FanDuel?! Profit is profit, and missing out is missing out. Love ya.

Main Street – flat. Fantasy street – to the moon.

Why would anyone waste his time trying to open a machine shop in Gary, Indiana... or an ice cream parlor in Baltimore? The internet is where the profits are.

Why bother to learn biochemistry or electrical engineering? Financial engineering is where the money is.

And why bother trying to add to real wealth at all... when fantasy wealth is so much easier to come by?

Fantasy Wealth

Money is money. And there's a lot more fast, easy money to be made in the fantasy world than in the real world.

The trouble is, real resources – time, energy, skill, and raw materials – are limited. Put them into the fantasy economy... and the real economy is neglected.

And then, the real world, deprived of labor and capital, shrinks... while the fantasies run wild. And then, they run away.

Dogecoin was back in the news yesterday, after self-proclaimed “Dogefather” Elon Musk tweeted that he was “Working with Doge devs to improve system transaction efficiency. Potentially promising.”

This caused the mischief money to increase its market value by some $20 billion.

Ethereum (ETH), meanwhile, has risen from nothing to a market value of nearly half a trillion dollars. You could buy one coin a year ago for $187. Now, the price is about $4,000. A 2,000%+ gain in a year – not bad.

So, if you'd put the first stimmy check – $1,200 – into ETH, you'd have nearly $25,000 worth of Ethereum today.

And why work for a living if you can get a 1,700% one-week return on the latest “dog,” SHIB, as we reported yesterday?

Money is money. And in the late degenerate Bubble Epoch, even fake, “dog sh*t” money is king.

Inflation Everywhere

But watch out... the king’s currency is giving way.

First, housing accounts for almost a quarter of the Consumer Price Index (CPI). And it’s running hot. Both the National Association of Realtors and real estate brokerage Redfin are reporting 12-month house price increases in excess of 15%.

“Double digit” inflation, in other words.

And here’s the latest from CNBC on the Producer Price Index (PPI), which measures the prices paid to producers, as opposed to prices at the consumer level:

Another inflation gauge comes in hot with producer prices jumping 6.2% in April from a year ago

...the largest increase since the Bureau of Labor Statistics started tracking the data in 2010.

And about the “intermediate processed goods,” a subcategory of the PPI, the Bureau of Labor Statistics had this to say:

For the 12 months ended in April, the index for processed goods for intermediate demand rose 18.4 percent, the largest advance since increasing 18.9 percent for the 12 months ended February 1980.

Robust Denial

And now, after the worst inflation news in many years, the feds are sweating... trying to explain why it ain’t so.

Inflation is “transitory,” they say. The numbers are coming off an “extremely low base.” The plague was a “one-time thing”... and now, with the vaccines, the economy is reopening.

The feds created this inflation with their “recovery,” and COVID-19 relief spending; they can turn off the taps any time they want.

Greed First... Fear Later

But let's not waste time on the perps. Let's look at the crime itself.

Money is money. But money is only money as long as it acts like money. You must be able to use it to buy things... and/or to store value.

When it fails to do those things, people find new forms of money.

Already, on the streets of Buenos Aires, advertisements urge people to put their savings into an electronic cryptocurrency. Inflation there is running at about 50% per year. The peso is failing to preserve wealth. So Argentines look for alternatives.

Americans look for alternatives, too – but more out of greed than fear. So far, they are still counting their profits. Cryptos, tech stocks, houses – all are rising fast.

The fear will come later. Because the criminals are incorrigible. Every cockamamie “investment” with no hope of producing a real economic return – whether it is private or public – reduces supplies of goods and services.

And every dollar of “stimulus” – whether it goes to the elite or to the masses – increases the “demand” for them.

This is man-made, intentional inflation... not natural, cyclical inflation. And unless the criminals suddenly decide to go straight, it will continue.

Obvious Choice

All the feds have to work with is “stimulus” (aka fake money).

They can either take it away – and be blamed for a crypto crash/stock market rout/bond Armageddon/recession/depression/insurrection... and run out of Washington on a rail.

Or they can add it, and get their mugs on the cover of TIME Magazine as the saviors of Western Civilization.

What will they do? We both already know, don't we?

So... Watch where you step!"

Regards,

Bill Bonner | May 8, 2021 | Bill Bonner's Diary | 5 min read

BONNER “You’ve heard, of course, of the “greater fool” theory, the strategy in which a buyer pays a foolish price for something, betting that someone else will pay even more.

Well, on Monday, it looked like the greatest fool of all had finally shown up at an auction house. Bloomberg’s Matt Levine is on the story:

On Monday, Sotheby’s announced it had brokered a $1.8 million sale of Kanye West’s Nike Air Yeezy 1 sneakers, making them the most expensive pair of (known) shoes to sell, ever.

But the sneakers weren’t purchased by a footwear-loving collector. Instead, they were acquired by the company Rares, which plans to fractionalize pieces of the shoes as an investment.

That’s right. “Investors” are expected to buy shares in the shoes... hoping to sell them to other “investors” at even more lunatic prices.”

<https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/investing-in-sneakers/>

Bonner <https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/the-latest-big-business-strategy/> :

"...Companies create wealth by earning profits – from making and doing things. They take raw materials at a cost of X... add labor at a cost of Y... and sell the finished product at a price of Z.

As long as X plus Y (we're simplifying) is lower than Z, the world is a richer place. They have "added value."

Financial Trickery

But the Federal Reserve has been actively inflating the financial economy (asset prices) while depressing the real Main Street economy (sales, wages, and profits) for at least 30 years.

So, the relative importance and profitability of delivering products and services – compared to the quick, leveraged pizzazz of Wall Street – has declined.

“...Arbitrary Rearrangement of Wealth”

(except it's not arbitrary; but rather fraud/scam)

“When money is no object, no object is too asinine to spend it on. Economist John Maynard Keynes described it in 1919:

By a continuing process of inflation, governments can confiscate, secretly and unobserved, an important part of the wealth of their citizens. By this method they not only confiscate, but they confiscate arbitrarily; and, while the process impoverishes many, it actually enriches some. The sight of this arbitrary rearrangement of riches strikes not only at security but [also] at confidence in the equity of the existing distribution of wealth.

[...]. As the inflation proceeds and the real value of the currency fluctuates wildly from month to month, all permanent relations between debtors and creditors, which form the ultimate foundation of capitalism, become so utterly disordered as to be almost meaningless; and the process of wealth-getting degenerates into a gamble and a lottery.

YAHOO NEWS

Politics Business Insider Trump 'acts like a mafioso': Why NY's AG may treat the Trump Organization like a mob racket in its criminal inquiry, according to legal experts <https://www.yahoo.com/news/trump-acts-mafioso-why-nys-180530534.html> The Trump Organization is now facing a criminal investigation. RICO experts explain why racketeering charges could be on the table. [ 'Acting like a mafioso' is not a predicate act as defined in the RICO Act; but trump/org. have violated the RICO Act, the covered crimes of which are set forth specifically as follows:

Crimes that Are Covered by the RICO Act

A violation of RICO occurs when a person, in connection with an enterprise, engages in a pattern of racketeering activity. Racketeering activity includes:

- Arson
- Bribery
- Counterfeiting
- Distribution of a controlled substance
- Embezzlement
- Extortion
- Gambling
- Homicide
- Kidnapping
- Mail fraud
- Money laundering
- Robbery
- Wire fraud
- Witness tampering

Clearly, trump&als are guilty of money laundering, bribery, mail/wire/bankruptcy fraud, obstruction of justice, tax evasion; and probably more upon corroborative investigation.

18 U.S.C. § 2332b(g)(5)(B) lists approximately fifty offenses that may constitute RICO predicate offenses under 18 U.S.C. § 1961(1)(G). As of October 26, 2001, the enactment date of the USA Patriot Act of 2001, Section 2332b(g)(5)(B) of Title 18, set forth the following offenses: Section 2332b(g)(5)(B)(I) - 18 U.S.C. § 32 (relating to destruction of aircraft or aircraft facilities), 18 U.S.C. § 37 (relating to violence at international airports), 18 U.S.C. § 81 (relating to arson within special maritime and territorial jurisdiction), 18 U.S.C. §§175 or 175b (relating to biological weapons), 18 U.S.C. § 229 (relating to chemical weapons), 18 U.S.C. §§ 351(a), (b), (c), or (d) (relating to congressional, cabinet, and Supreme Court assassination and kidnaping), 18 U.S.C. § 831 (relating to nuclear materials), 18 U.S.C. §§ 842(m) or (n) (relating to plastic explosives), 18 U.S.C. §§ 844(f)(2) or (3) (relating to arson and bombing of Government property risking or causing death), 18 U.S.C. § 844(l) (relating to arson and bombing of property used in interstate commerce), 18 U.S.C. § 930(c) (relating to killing or attempted killing during an attack on a Federal facility with a dangerous weapon), 18 U.S.C. § 956(a)(1) (relating to conspiracy to murder, kidnap, or maim persons abroad), 18 U.S.C. §1030(a)(1) (relating to protection of computers), 18 U.S.C. § 1030(a)(5)(A) (I) resulting in damage as defined in 1030(a)(5)(B)(ii) through (v) (relating to protection of computers), 18 U.S.C. § 1114 (relating to killing or attempted killing of officers and employees of the United States), 18 U.S.C. § 1116 (relating to murder or manslaughter of foreign officials, official guests, or internationally protected persons), 18 U.S.C. § 1203 (relating to hostage taking), 18 U.S.C. § 1362 (relating to destruction of communication lines, stations, or systems), 18 U.S.C. § 1363 (relating to injury to buildings or property within special maritime and territorial jurisdiction of the United States), 18 U.S.C. §1366(a) (relating to destruction of an energy facility), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1751(a), (b), (c), or (d) (relating to Presidential and Presidential staff assassination and kidnaping), 18 U.S.C. §1992 (relating to wrecking trains), 18 U.S.C. § 1993 (relating to terrorist attacks and other acts of violence against railroad carriers and against mass transportation systems on land, on water, or through the air), 18 U.S.C. § 2155 (relating to destruction of national defense materials, premises, or utilities), 18 U.S.C. § 2280 (relating to violence

11against maritime navigation), 18 U.S.C. § 2281 (relating to violence against maritime fixed platforms), 18 U.S.C. § 2332 (relating to certain homicides and other violence against United States nationals occurring outside of the United States), 18 U.S.C. § 2332a (relating to use of weapons of mass destruction), 18 U.S.C. § 2332b (relating to acts of terrorism transcending national boundaries), 18 U.S.C. § 2339 (relating to harboring terrorists), 18 U.S.C. § 2339A (relating to providing material support to terrorists), 18 U.S.C. § 2339B (relating to providing material support to terrorist organizations), or 18 U.S.C. § 2340A (relating to torture). Section 2332b(g)(5)(B)(ii) - 42 U.S.C. § 2284 (relating to sabotage of nuclear facilities or fuel). Section 2332b(g)(5)(B) (iii) - 49 U.S.C. § 46502 (relating to aircraft piracy), the second sentence of 49 U.S.C. § 46504 (relating to assault on a flight crew with a dangerous weapon), 49 U.S.C. § 46505(b)(3) or (c) (relating to explosive or incendiary devices, or endangerment of human life by means of weapons, on aircraft), 49 U.S.C. § 46506 if homicide or attempted homicide is involved (relating to application of certain criminal laws to acts on aircraft), or 49 U.S.C. § 60123(b) (relating to destruction of interstate gas or hazardous liquid pipeline facility). Furthermore, it is noteworthy that the Administration's original proposal for the USA Patriot Act in 2001 would have amended Chapter 113B of Title 18, United States Code (18 U.S.C. §§ 2331-2339D) to state that "[t]here is extraterritorial jurisdiction over any Federal terrorism offense and any offense under this chapter." Administration's Draft Anti-Terrorism Act of 2001, Hearing before the H. Comm. on the Judiciary, 107 Cong. at 86 (2001) (materials submitted for the Hearing Record, Consultation Draft of September 20, 2001, Section-By-Section Analysis). The reason for this proposal to provide for extraterritorial jurisdiction was as follows: Under existing law, some terrorism crimes have extraterritorial applicability, and can be prosecuted by the United States regardless of where they are committed—for example, 18 U.S.C. § 175 (biological weapons offense) and 2332a (use of weapons of mass destruction) contain language which expressly contemplates their application to conduct occurring outside of the United States. However, there are no explicit extraterritorial provisions in the statutes defining many other offenses which are likely to be committed by terrorists. This section helps to ensure that terrorist acts committed anywhere in the world can be effectively prosecuted by specifying that there is extraterritorial jurisdiction for the prosecution of all federal terrorism offenses. Id. at 63.

18 U.S.C. § 2332B(G)(5)(B) LISTS APPROXIMATELY FIFTY OFFENSES THAT MAY CONSTITUTE RICO PREDICATE OFFENSES UNDER 18 U.S.C. § 1961(1)(G)

Organized Crime in america has expanded (to include even the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the u.s. government), grown, and prevailed despite historically posited good intentions owing to corruption and inherent, evolved american criminality.

RICO's Legislative History: RICO Initially Was Enacted in 1970 to Combat Organized Crime and Other Corruption

Section 1 of Pub. L. No. 91-452 (RICO) provided that:

The Congress finds that (1) organized crime in the United States is a highly sophisticated, diversified, and widespread activity that annually drains billions of dollars from America's economy by unlawful conduct and the illegal use of force, fraud, and corruption; (2) organized crime derives a major portion of its power through money obtained from such illegal endeavors as syndicated gambling, loan sharking, the theft and fencing of property, the importation and distribution of narcotics and other dangerous drugs, and other forms of social exploitation; (3) this money and power are increasingly used to infiltrate and corrupt legitimate business and labor unions and to subvert and corrupt our democratic processes; (4) organized crime activities in the United States weaken the stability of the Nation's economic system, harm innocent investors and competing organizations, interfere with free competition, seriously burden interstate and foreign commerce, threaten the domestic security, and undermine the general welfare of the Nation and its citizens; and (5) organized crime continues to grow because of defects in the evidence-gathering process of the law inhibiting the development of the legally admissible evidence necessary to bring criminal and other sanctions or remedies to bear on the unlawful activities of those engaged in organized crime and because the sanctions and remedies available to the Government are unnecessarily limited in scope and impact. It is the purpose of this Act to seek the eradication of organized crime in the United States by strengthening the legal tools in the evidence-gathering process, by establishing new penal prohibitions, and by providing enhanced sanctions and new remedies to deal with the unlawful activities of those engaged in organized crime.

RICO's 35 Offenses

RICO identifies 35 different offenses that constitute racketeering. Under the law, racketeering consists of a pattern of activity that involves some sort of enterprise as opposed to crimes committed by single individuals. This means that the illegal activity has been committed by a group, such as crime family, a drug cartel, street gang, or a motorcycle club. The group can also be a corporation or even a political party. RICO can involve both criminal and civil penalties.

Examples of racketeering under RICO include but are not limited to:

- Murder
- Kidnapping
- Drug trafficking
- Bribery
- Arson
- Gambling
- Money laundering
- Obstruction of justice

- Forgery
- Healthcare fraud, such as Medicare and Medicaid fraud
- Trading in illegal weapons
- Predatory lending
- Protection rackets, in which victims are required to pay for protection to avoid harm to a business or property

RICO crimes may be investigated by such federal agencies as the FBI, The DEA, the IRS, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF), the Secret Service, and more. Under this law, anyone convicted of racketeering may be sentenced to up to 20 years in prison and fines up to $25,000 per each count of racketeering. They will also likely face forfeiture of any financial gains made and lose their interests in the enterprise they created through a pattern of committing racketeering crimes.

*I believe that to fully comprehend the horrific american scenario encompassing decline and fall, the following are helpful and instructive. First, an understanding of biological anthropology is helpful, particularly as pertains to breeding populations as regionally exist throughout america. Second, a thorough grasp of psychology is crucial given the alarming prevalence of severe mental illness throughout america and at all levels of society. Third, command of the subject generally denoted as criminology is necessary to fully enable successful approach to the uniquely pervasive levels of criminality throughout the united states. I believe word pictures in the minds eye of america's devastating plight can be derived from such profound literary works as: 'Lord of the Flies'-Golding; '1984', 'Animal Farm'-Orwell; and, given the wall obsession of mental case mobster thief in chief trump, the film, 'Escape From New York' (america - full wall enclosure/containment of american criminality to america)-Carpenter.

Finally, let me add that it is preposterous that inhabitants of a dying planet (earth) seek to spend enormous sums (including boondoggles as ie., the fake moon landing, etc.), resources, time, attention, and energy to, it is their hope, travel to, colonize, and mine other already dead planets (some having already had or are currently prone to, regularly experiencing devastating "climate change"), moons in an already dead solar system. I’m far from impressed and won’t be jumping on a musky transport to Mars any time soon. In america, fraud and bulls**t sell; trump is a testament to that pathetic reality.

Elon Musk says he is an alien two years after denying suspicions that he hails from another planet. The SpaceX and Tesla founder, 49, made the jaw-dropping claim in response to a question about how he runs so many massive companies at the same time.

[australia the overt penal colony, a microcosm of america the (implicit penal) colony, is an example of evolutionary disaster in the making when breeding populations are scrutinized. trump's inherent criminality is egregious proof of this anthropological disaster called america, the haven for the criminally insane.] [ I believe that to fully comprehend this horrific american scenario encompassing decline and fall, the following are helpful and instructive. First, an understanding of biological anthropology is helpful, particularly as pertains to breeding populations as regionally exist throughout america. Second, a thorough grasp of psychology is crucial given the alarming prevalence of severe mental illness throughout america and at all levels of society. Third, command of the subject generally denoted as criminology is necessary to fully enable successful approach to the uniquely pervasive levels of criminality throughout the united states. I believe word pictures in the minds eye of america's devastating plight can be derived from such profound literary works as: 'Lord of the Flies'-Golding; '1984', 'Animal Farm'-Orwell; and, given the wall obsession of mental case mobster thief in chief trump, the film, 'Escape From New York' (america - full wall enclosure/containment of american criminality to america)-Carpenter.(The irony is not lost on the Mexicans - Drudgereport: Mexico holds big music festival...Taunts Trump: 'The wall is to protect Mexicans!') ]

PRICES ARE SURGING. HERE'S WHAT IS GETTING MORE EXPENSIVE

Bonner: <https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/the-feds-bad-economic-strategy/>

<https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/americas-inflation-explained/>

CNN "New York (CNN Business)By now, you probably know that everything is getting more expensive. From furniture, to used cars, to uncooked beef roasts, consumer prices have grown steadily since January as the economy recovers and Americans are spending money again. Also sending prices higher: The ongoing pandemic has complicated supply chains, limiting supply, even as demand for goods soars. Overall, consumer prices rose 5% last month over the previous May -- the biggest jump since the summer of 2008 and more than the predicted 4.7% increase.

Here's what you need to know about how prices are changing.

Household furnishings

Thinking of buying a new couch? Maybe some new bedding? Be prepared to pay more than usual. The household furnishings and operations prices, which includes categories such as domestic services and furniture and bedding, increased 1.3% last month. From the outset, the change doesn't seem like much, but it marks the largest monthly increase since January 1976. Last spring, as the pandemic brought economic chaos, sawmills closed in anticipation of a housing slump. That slump never came. Now, lumber prices are exploding as the lumber supply has tried, and failed, to keep up with demand.

Transportation

For the second-consecutive month, used car and truck prices surged. Last month, they rose 7.3%, accounting for around one-third of the overall increase in prices in May. In April, used car and truck prices rose 10%, the biggest monthly price rise since used car data was first tracked in 1953. The perfect storm making everything you need more expensive. New cars got more expensive too, rising 1.6% in May. That's the largest 1-month increase since October 2009. The shift to working from home coupled with job loss last year caused auto sales to plummet. In response, many dealerships closed. While the demand for cars has returned, the supply has not. Auto plants around the world have been forced to close or limit production following a recent computer chip shortage. Now, car dealers have fewer cars on their lots. The strong demand and limited supply are continuing to send prices soaring.

Travel

Americans have been stuck at home for over a year now. But with relaxed Covid restrictions and increasing rates of vaccination, travel is returning, and people are eager to get going. Airline fare prices continued to surge, rising 7% last month. Other forms of travel transportation continued to rise. Car and truck rentals are 12.1% more expensive, and other intercity transportation now costs 2% more. Once you get to your destination, things aren't as bad. Intracity transportation prices decreased 0.4% last month.

Food

If you're planning on buying uncooked beef roasts or beef steaks at your July 4th party this year, you might want to reconsider. The price for each rose 6.4% and 4.3% respectively last month. As an alternative, you could try frankfurters, which are 1.9% cheaper than in April, or ham, which is 2.7% cheaper. Overall, meat, poultry, fish and egg prices rose 1.3% last month. Fortunately, however, pickle prices fell 2.1%, nonalcoholic beverage prices fell 0.5% and fruit and vegetable prices overall didn't change, so you can at least stock up on sides and drinks for your holiday celebrations. Notoriously volatile, food prices are continuing to get more expensive in general. The cost of food increased 0.4% in May. That's the same increase as in April.

Health

Although prices are rising, there is some good news, particularly if you need the doctor. The medical care index, which includes items such as medicinal drugs, medical equipment and healthcare services, increased 0.9% over the last 12 months. Yes, that's higher than the same point last year -- but it's the smallest increase since March 1941."

Remarkably similar threatening tactics have been directed at other women who, like Mrs. Browning, have personal knowledge of Clinton's misconduct and were sought as witnesses in official proceedings against Clinton. See id. at 134. Plaintiffs referred in their Amended Complaint to the threats and retaliation by Clinton and his agents against Kathleen Willey and Linda Tripp when they were called to testify in the Jones case and the Independent Counsel's investigation of the Lewinsky affair. Indeed, the number of women who have suffered from these "Clintonian" tactics is significant. On March 11, 1999, Investor's Business Daily reported that at least nine (9) women have now charged that Clinton "personally assaulted them or, through his 'agents' or 'people,' threatened to do them or their families physical harm." The list includes Dolly Kyle Browning, Gennifer Flowers, Juanita Broadrick, Paula Corbin Jones, Kathleen Willey, Monica Lewinsky, Linda Tripp, Sally Perdue, and Elizabeth Ward Gracen. "And all of them say they're afraid for their safety so long as he remains in power."

Lewinsky, who told her own account of the affair in the 1999 book "Monica's Story," said she reluctantly spoke out about Clinton's tome "My Life" because he tried to rewrite history. "He says he was proud of the way that he defended the presidency, at my expense," she said. "In the process he destroyed me, and that was the way he was going to have to do that, to get through impeachment," Lewinsky added. "I was a young girl and to hear him saying some of the things he was saying today -- it's a shame."

John F. Kennedy Jr.

Potential Candidate for Senator from New York.

died: 7/16/99

Within days of an NBC Dateline story hinting at a possible run for the Senate seat currently assumed to be the property of Hillary Clinton, JFK Jr. and his wife and sister-in-law died when the Piper Saratoga II TC JFK Jr. was piloting crashed in to the ocean just short of Martha's Vineyard. The NEWSWEEK issue for the following Monday, which NBC Dateline had reported would announce JFK Jr's candidacy, was yanked from distributors and destroyed.

Even before the wreckage of the plane had been found, the media was saturated with news stories declaring the weather to have been very hazy (the weather was VFR conditions, and 8 mile visibility, plus weather radar and witnesses on Martha's Vineyard all reported clear skies) making it impossible for JFK Jr. to know which way was up (he also had working instruments in the aircraft).

As was the case when TWA 800 was shot down, the United States Navy took control of the crash site, ordering an unprecedented 5 mile wide no-fly zone while the wreckage of the aircraft was recovered and taken to a military base.

Reporters Cindy Adams and Andrew Goldman have documented the planting of false information about JFK Jr. in the media in the days following his crash. The feeding of false information to the press proves there is a cover-up. The existence of a cover-up is why JFK Jr. gets an entry on the Dead Bodies List.

According to some reports, Mrs. Kennedy was pregnant.

CLINTON BODY COUNT

By: Ether Zone Staff

Here is the latest body count that we have. All of these people have been connected with the Clintons in some form or another. We have not included any deaths that could not be verified or connected to the Clinton scandals. All deaths are listed chronologically by date. This list is current and accurate to the best of our knowledge as of ~~January 13, 1999~~ August 1, 2000.

Larry Guerrin: Was killed in February 1987 while investigating the INSLAW case.

Kevin Ives & Don Henry: Initial cause of death was reported to be the result of falling asleep on a railroad track in Arkansas on August 23, 1987. This ruling was reported by the State medical examiner Fahmy Malak. Later it was determined that Kevin died from a crushed skull prior to being placed on the tracks. Don had been stabbed in the back. Rumors indicate that they might have stumbled upon a Mena drug operation.

Keith Coney: Keith had information on the Ives/Henry deaths. Died in a motorcycle accident in July 1988 with unconfirmed reports of a high speed car chase.

Keith McKaskle: McKaskle has information on the Ives/Henry deaths. He was stabbed to death in November 1988.

Jeff Rhodes: He had information on the deaths of Ives, Henry & McKaskle. His burned body was found in a trash dump in April 1989. He died of a gunshot wound to the head and there was some body mutilation, leading to the probably speculation that he was tortured prior to being killed.

James Milam: Milam had information on the Ives & Henry deaths. He was decapitated. The state Medical examiner, Fahmy Malak, initially ruled death due to natural causes.

Richard Winters: Winters was a suspect in the deaths of Ives & Henry. He was killed in a "robbery" in July 1989 which was subsequently proven to be a setup.

Jordan Kettleson: Kettleson had information on the Ives & Henry deaths. He was found shot to death in the front seat of his pickup in June 1990.

Ian Spiro: Spiro had supporting documentation for grand jury proceedings on the INSLAW case. His wife and 3 children were found murdered on November 1, 1992 in their home. They all died of gunshot wounds to the head. Ian's body was found several days later in a parked car in the Borego Desert. Cause of death? The ingestion of cyanide. Jim Wilhite: Wilhite was an associate of Mack McClarty's former firm. Wilhite died in a skiing accident on December 21, 1992. He also had extensive ties to Clinton with whom he visited by telephone just hours before his death.

Steve Willis, Robert Williams, Todd McKeahan & Conway LeBleu: Died February 28, 1993 by gunfire at Waco. All four were examined by a pathologist and died from identical wounds to the left temple. All four had been body guards for Bill Clinton, three while campaigning for President and when he was Governor of Arkansas. They also were the ONLY 4 BATF agents killed at Waco.

Sgt. Brian Haney, Sgt. Tim Sabel, Maj. William Barkley, Capt. Scott Reynolds: Died: May 19, 1993 - All four men died when their helicopter crashed in the woods near Quantico, Va. - Reporters were barred from the site, and the head of the fire department responding to the crash described it by saying, "Security was tight," with "lots of Marines with guns." A videotape made by a firefighter was seized by the Marines. All four men had escorted Clinton on his flight to the carrier Roosevelt shortly before their deaths.

John Crawford: An attorney with information on INSLAW. He died from a heart attack in Tacoma in April of 1993.

John Wilson: Found dead from an apparent hanging suicide on May 18, 1993. He was a former Washington DC council member and claimed to have info on Whitewater.

Paul Wilcher: A lawyer who was investigating drug running out of Mena, Arkansas and who also sought to expose the "October Surprise", BCCI and INSLAW. He was found in his Washington DC apartment dead of unknown causes on June 22, 1993.

Vincent Foster: A White House deputy counsel and long-time personal friend of Bill and Hillary's. Found on July 20, 1993, dead of a gunshot wound to the mouth -- a death ruled suicide. Many different theories on this case! Readers are encouraged to read our report in Strange Deaths.

Jon Parnell Walker: An investigator for the RTC who was looking into the linkage between the Whitewater and Madison S&L bankruptcy. Walker "fell" from the top of the Lincoln Towers Building.

Stanley Heard & Steven Dickson: They were members of the Clinton health care advisory committee. They died in a plane crash on September 10, 1993.

Jerry Luther Parks: Parks was the Chief of Security for Clinton's national campaign headquarters in Little Rock. Gunned down in his car on September 26, 1993 near the intersection of Chenal Parkway and Highway 10 west of Little Rock. Parks was shot through the rear window of his car. The assailant then pulled around to the driver's side of Park's car and shot him three more times with a 9mm pistol. His family reported that shortly before his death, they were being followed by unknown persons, and their home had been broken into (despite a top quality alarm system). Parks had been compiling a dossier on Clinton's illicit activities. The dossier was stolen.

Ed Willey: A Clinton fundraiser. He died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound on November 30, 1993. His death came the same day his wife, Kathleen, was sexually assaulted in the White House by Bill Clinton.

Herschell Friday: A member of the presidential campaign finance committee. He died in an airplane explosion on March 1, 1994.

Ronald Rogers: Rogers died on March 3, 1994 just prior to releasing sensitive information to a London newspaper. Cause of death? Undetermined.

Kathy Ferguson: A 38 year old hospital worker whose ex-husband is a co- defendant in the Paula Jones sexual harassment law suit. She had information supporting Paula Jones's allegations. She died of an apparent suicide on May 11, 1994 from a gunshot wound to the head.

Bill Shelton: Shelton was an Arkansas police officer and was found dead as an apparent suicide on Kathy Ferguson's grave (Kathy was his girl friend), on June 12, 1994. This "suicide" was the result of a gunshot wound to the back of the head.

Stanley Huggins: Huggins, 46, was a principal in a Memphis law firm which headed a 1987 investigation into the loan practices of Madison Guaranty S&L. Stanley died in Delaware in July 1994 -- reported cause of death was viral pneumonia.

Paul Olson: A Federal witness in investigations to drug money corruption in Chicago politics, Paul had just finished 2 days of FBI interviews when his plane ride home crashed, killing Paul and 130 others on Sept 8 1994. The Sept. 15, 1994 Tempe Tribune newspaper reported that the FBI suspected that a bomb had brought down the airplane.

Calvin Walraven: 24 year old Walraven was a key witness against Jocelyn Elder's son's drug case. Walraven was found dead in his apartment with a gunshot wound to the head. Tim Hover, a Little Rock police spokesman says no foul play is suspected.

Alan G. Whicher: Oversaw Clinton's Secret Service detail. In October 1994 Whicher was transferred to the Secret Service field office in the Murrah Building in Oklahoma City. Whatever warning was given to the BATF agents in that building did not reach Alan Whicher, who died in the bomb blast of April 19th 1995.

Duane Garrett: Died July 26, 1995-A lawyer and a talk show host for KGO-AM in San Fransisco, Duane was the campaign finance chairman for Diane Fienstien's run for the senate, and was a friend and fundraiser for Al Gore. Garrett was under investigation for defrauding investors in Garrett's failed sports memorabilia venture. There was talk of a deal to evade prosecution. On July 26th, Garrett canceled an afternoon meeting with his lawyer because he had to meet some people at the San Fransisco airport. Three hours later he was found floating in the bay under the Golden Gate Bridge.

Ron Brown:. The Commerce Secretary died on April 3, 1996, in an Air Force jet carrying Brown and 34 others, including 14 business executives on a trade mission to Croatia, crashed into a mountainside. The Air Force, in a 22-volume report issued in June of 1996, confirmed its initial judgment that the crash resulted from pilot errors and faulty navigation equipment At the time of Brown's death, Independent Counsel Daniel Pearson was seeking to determine whether Brown had engaged in several sham financial transactions with longtime business partner Nolanda Hill shortly before he became secretary of commerce.

Charles Meissner: died: UNK - Following Ron Brown's death, John Huang was placed on a Commerce Department contract that allowed him to retain his security clearance by Charles Meissner. Shortly thereafter, Meissner died in the crash of a small plane. He was an Assistant Secretary of Commerce for International Economic Policy.

William Colby: Retired CIA director was found dead on May 6, 1996 after his wife reported him missing on April 27, 1996. Apparently, Colby decided to go on a impromptu canoeing excursion and never returned. Colby who had just started writing for Strategic Investment newsletter, worried many in the intelligent community. Colby's past history of divulging CIA secrets in the past were well known. Strategic Investor had covered the Vince Foster suicide and had hired handwriting experts to review Foster's suicide note.

Admiral Jeremy Boorda: Died on May 16, 1996 after he went home for lunch and decided to shoot himself in the chest (by one report, twice) rather than be interviewed by Newsweek magazine that afternoon. Explanations for Boorda's suicide focused on a claim that he was embarrassed over two "Valor" pins he was not authorized to wear.

Lance Herndon: Herndon a 41 year old computer specialist and a prominent entrepreneur who received a presidential appointment in 1995 died August 10, 1996 under suspicious circumstances. He appeared to have died from a blow to the head. Police said no weapons were found at his mansion, adding that Mr. Herndon had not been shot or stabbed and there was no evidence of forced entry or theft.

Neil Moody: Died -August 25, 1996 Following Vincent Foster's murder, Lisa Foster married James Moody, a judge in Arkansas, on Jan 1, 1996. Near the time Susan McDougal first went to jail for contempt, Judge Moor's son, Neil died in a car crash. There were other reports that Neil Moody had discovered something very unsettling among his stepmother's private papers and was threatening to go public with it just prior to the beginning of the Democratic National Convention. He was alleged to have been talking to Bob Woodward of the Washington Post about a blockbuster story. Witnesses said they saw Neil Moody sitting in his car arguing with another person just prior to His car suddenly speeding off out of control and hitting a brick wall.

Barbara Wise: Wise a 14-year Commerce Department employee found dead and partially naked in her office following a long weekend. She worked in the same section as John Huang. Officially, she is said to have died of natural causes.

Doug Adams: Died January 7, 1997- A lawyer in Arkansas who got involved trying to help the people who were being swindled out of their life savings. Adams was found in his vehicle with a gunshot wound to his head in a Springfield Mo. hospital parking lot.

Mary C. Mahoney: 25, murdered at the Georgetown Starbuck's coffee bar over the 4th of July '97 weekend. She was a former White House intern who worked with John Huang. Apparently she knew Monica Lewinsky and her sexual encounters with Bill Clinton. Although not verified, it has been said that Lewinsky told Linda Tripp that she did not want to end up like Mahoney.

Ronald Miller: Suddenly took ill on October 3rd, 1997 and steadily worsened until his death 9 days later. (This pattern fits Ricin poisoning.) Owing to the strangeness of the illness, doctors at the Integris Baptist Medical Center referred the matter to the Oklahoma State Medical Examiner's Office. The Oklahoma State Medical Examiner's Office promptly ran tests on samples of Ron Miller's blood, but has refused to release the results or even to confirm that the tests were ever completed.

Had been investigated by authorities over the sale of his company, Gage Corp. to Dynamic Energy Resources, Inc. was the man who tape recorded Gene and Nora Lum and turned those tapes (and other records) over to congressional oversight investigators. The Lums were sentenced to prison for campaign finance violations, using "straw donors" to conceal the size of their contributions to various candidates. Indeed, Dynamic Energy Resources, Inc. had hired Ron Brown's son Michael solely for the purpose of funneling $60,000 through him to the Commerce Secretary, according to Nolanda Hill's testimony.

Sandy Hume: On Sunday, February 22nd, 1998, Sandy Hume, the 28 year old son of journalist Britt Hume, was reportedly found dead in his Arlington, Virginia home. Aside from the statement that this was an "apparent" suicide, there remains in place a total media blackout on this story, possibly out of concern that the actual facts will not withstand public scrutiny. Worked for Hill magazine, about Congress for Congress.

Jim McDougal: Bill and Hillary Clinton friend, banker, and political ally, sent to prison for eighteen felony convictions. A key whitewater witness, dies of a heart attack on March, 8 1998. As of this writing allegations that he was given an injection of the diuretic lasix has not been denied or confirmed. Died on March 8, 1998

Johnny Lawhon: 29, died March 29, 1998- The Arkansas transmission specialist who discovered a pile of Whitewater documents in the trunk of an abandoned car on his property and turned them over to Starr, was killed in a car wreck two weeks after the McDougal death.. Details of the "accident" have been sketchy -- even from the local Little Rock newspaper.

Charles Wilbourne Miller: 63, was found dead of a gunshot wound to the head on November 17, 1998 in a shallow pit about 300 yards from his ranch house near Little Rock. Police found a .410 gauge shotgun near Miller's body and a Ruger .357-caliber revolver submerged in water. Investigators concluded the Ruger was the weapon used by Miller to kill himself. Yet, two rounds in the handgun's cylinder had been spent.

He had long served as executive vice president and member of the board of directors for a company called Alltel and was deeply involved in his own software engineering company until the day he died. Alltel is the successor to Jackson Stephens' Systematics, the company that provided the software for the White House's "Big Brother" data base system and that was behind the administration's plan to develop the secret computer "Clipper" chip to bug every phone, fax and email transmission in America.

Carlos Ghigliotti: 42, was found dead in his home just outside of Washington D.C. on April 28, 2000. There was no sign of a break-in or struggle at the firm of Infrared Technology where the badly decomposed body of Ghigliotti was found. Ghigliotti had not been seen for several weeks.

Ghigliotti, a thermal imaging analyst hired by the House Government Reform Committee to review tape of the siege, said he determined the FBI fired shots on April 19, 1993. The FBI has explained the light bursts on infrared footage as reflections of sun rays on shards of glass or other debris that littered the scene.

"I conclude this based on the groundview videotapes taken from several different angles simultaneously and based on the overhead thermal tape," Ghigliotti told The Washington Post last October. "The gunfire from the ground is there, without a doubt."

Ghigliotti said the tapes also confirm the Davidians fired repeatedly at FBI agents during the assault, which ended when flames raced through the compound. About 80 Branch Davidians perished that day, some from the fire, others from gunshot wounds.

Mark Corallo, a spokesman for the congressional committee chaired by Rep. Dan Burton, R-Ind., said that police found the business card of a committee investigator in Ghigliotti's office. Corallo said Ghigliotti's work for the committee ended some time ago.

Tony Moser: 41, was killed as he crossed a street in Pine Bluff, Ark on June 10, 2000. Killed 10 days after being named a columnist for the Democrat-Gazette newspaper and two days after penning a stinging indictment of political corruption in Little Rock.

Police have concluded that no charges will be filed against the unnamed driver of a 1995 Chevrolet pickup, which hit Moser as he was walking alone in the middle of unlit Rhinehart Road about 10:10 p.m

Police say they have ruled out foul play and will file no charges against the driver because he was not intoxicated and there was no sign of excessive speed.

The major indices experienced a bit of a rebound after the Fed Press Conference but eventually ended the day with losses. The DOW was hardest hit with an 0.8% drop.
- As expected, the Fed kept its short-term borrowing interest rate near zero, as well as keeping its monthly bond buying rates steady. But the Fed announced that it sees two interest rate hikes by the end of 2023 which is earlier than expected. The Fed also expects inflation to rise in the short-term to 3.4%, although it reiterated its stance that their long term goal for inflation is 2%.

A 'Weak End At Bernie's' America [WOW!]

"Albert -

As Chairman of the Budget Committee it is my view that we must, finally, write a budget that addresses the needs of the working families of our country. Yes. At a time of massive income and wealth inequality, we must take on the Big Money interests and their Super PACs and develop policy that addresses the long-term structural crises facing ordinary Americans. The very rich are doing just fine. Now it's time for government to work for the low and moderate income people of our country.

Here are the facts:

In America today over half of our people live paycheck to paycheck, inflation accounted for wages are lower than they were 48 years ago and millions work for starvation wages. Many of our older workers have nothing saved for retirement.

Despite paying twice as much for health care as other countries, over 90 million of us are uninsured or under-insured, we pay the highest prices in the world for prescription drugs and we have a growing shortage of doctors, nurses and dentists. The result is that 90 million Americans are uninsured or underinsured and some 60,000 unnecessarily die each year because they don't get to a doctor on time.

At a time when we need a well-educated workforce to compete in the global economy, millions of young people are unable to afford college or are leaving school deeply in debt. Our childcare system is dysfunctional and extraordinarily expensive, and many public K-12 schools in low-income districts are grossly underfunded.

Our physical infrastructure – roads, bridges, water systems, waste water plants, airports and mass transit – is crumbling with the American Society of Civil Engineers giving us a C-. In this "digital age," thousands of communities lack high-quality, affordable broadband.

Throughout the country we face a major housing crisis. Almost 600,000 Americans are homeless and nearly 18 million U.S. households spend at least 50 percent of their limited incomes on housing. Gentrification is driving working people from communities they have lived in for their entire lives.

We treat many of our seniors and people with disabilities shamefully. As our society ages, more and more Americans will prefer to receive the life-saving care they need in their homes, rather than at nursing facilities. We need well-trained, well-paid aides to provide those services.

Unbelievably, the United States is the only major country on earth not to guarantee workers time off for medical reasons or family crises. Millions of women are forced to go back to work a week or two after having a baby and parents are in danger of losing their jobs if they stay home with sick kids. The time is long overdue for the United States to provide 12 weeks of paid family and medical leave.

According to the scientific community, if we do not act aggressively on climate change the planet that we will be leaving our kids and future generations will be increasingly unhealthy and uninhabitable. That means that we must lead the global community in making massive cuts in carbon emissions, and transforming our energy system away from fossil fuel and into energy efficiency and sustainable energy.

Meanwhile, while working families struggle and the planet is imperiled, the wealthiest families in America have seen an explosion in their income and wealth and have never had it so good. Further, because of a corrupt and regressive tax system, many of the richest people and largest corporations in the country pay little or nothing in federal taxes.

Frankly, protecting the needs of low and moderate income Americans and addressing climate change will require trillions of dollars in new federal investments. Making certain that the very rich and large corporations start paying their fair share of taxes is an important part of that process.

This is not only an issue of economic fairness. It is an issue that threatens the very fabric of American democracy because the billionaire class uses its incredible power to dominate our political system and the legislative decision making process. The result is a rigged, regressive and corrupt tax code that has showered trillions of dollars in tax breaks to the top one percent.

As you may know, ProPublica released a report last week showing that the wealthiest individuals in this country pay very little, and in some cases nothing at all, in federal income taxes. While working people living paycheck to paycheck are asked to pay their fair share in taxes, Jeff Bezos and other billionaires are taking advantage of every loophole that is out there in order to drastically reduce or entirely avoid their taxes.

And by the way, it's not just individuals. There are major corporations that make billions in profits, and they also pay nothing in federal income taxes.

In order to address this gross unfairness, and raise the trillions in new revenue we desperately need, I recently introduced two pieces of legislation to reform our broken tax system. You can read more about these bills below.

But first, I need your help to send a message that the American people are sick and tired of a tax system that benefits the wealthy at the expense of everyone else.

Please sign my petition:

Add your name to tell Congress to pass two of my bills that would finally make the billionaire class and major corporations pay their fair share in taxes.

Here is a bit more information on my legislation to end our rigged tax code:

The For the 99.5% Act, which I've introduced with Senators Whitehouse, Gillibrand, Reed and Van Hollen, is an estate tax bill that would demand that the families of the billionaire class start paying their fair share of taxes. This is a progressive estate tax on the fortunes of the top 0.5% of Americans who inherit over $3.5 million in wealth. It would result in up to $2.7 trillion in estate taxes owed by the families of 657 billionaires in America.

The Corporate Offshore Tax Dodging Prevention Act would prevent corporations from shifting their profits offshore to avoid paying U.S. taxes and would restore the top corporate tax rate to 35%, which is where it was before Donald Trump became president. It would end tax break rewards for companies that send jobs and factories overseas and end loopholes that allow American corporations to avoid paying U.S. taxes.

As a result of Trump's tax cuts for the rich, over 90 Fortune 500 companies not only paid nothing in federal income taxes in 2018, they actually received billions of dollars in tax rebate checks from the IRS.

For example, in 2018:

Amazon received a $129 million refund check from the IRS after making $10.8 billion in profits.

Delta received a $187 million refund check from the IRS after making

$5.1 billion in profits.

Chevron received a $181 million refund check from the IRS after making $4.5 billion in profits.

This gross unfairness must come to an end.

Unbelievably, in the United States today there is more income and wealth inequality than almost any other major country on Earth. This inequality has only deepened with the economic crisis brought on by the pandemic, and by a tax system that allows billionaires to pay an effective tax rate lower than working people.

From a moral, economic, and political perspective, our nation will not thrive when so few have so much and so many have so little. We need a tax system which demands that the billionaire class start paying its fair share of taxes in order to reduce the obscene level of wealth and income inequality in America.

My colleagues in the Senate know where I stand on this issue. But it's not enough for them to hear from me. They need to hear from you as well if we are finally going to create a fair and progressive tax system.

Add your name to tell Congress it's time to have the courage to demand that the billionaire class and large corporations start paying their fair share in taxes.

The U.S. faces enormous structural crises that we must address such as our crumbling infrastructure, the existential threat of climate change, health care as a human right, making public colleges and universities tuition-free, and expanding Medicare. And one of the ways we will create the changes our country so desperately needs is by fixing our broken and unfair tax system.

Thank you for adding your name to my petition today.

WINGS OF HOPE (German: Julianes Sturz in den Dschungel) is a 2000 made-for-TV documentary directed by Werner Herzog. The film explores the story of Juliane Koepcke, a German Peruvian woman who was the sole survivor of Peruvian flight LANSA Flight 508 following its mid-air disintegration after a lightning strike in 1971. Herzog was inspired to make this film as he narrowly avoided taking the same flight while he was location scouting for "Aguirre, Wrath of God." His reservation was canceled due to a last minute change in itinerary.

Powell Just Made A Huge Error: What The Market's Shocking Response Means For The Fed's Endgame

<https://www.zerohedge.com/markets/powell-just-made-huge-error-what-markets-shocking-response-means-feds-endgame>

"...Back in December 2015, just days before the Fed hiked rates for the first time since the global financial crisis, in its first tightening campaign since June 2004, we said that Yellen was about to engage in a great policy error, one which like the Ghost of 1937, would end in disaster...and sure enough it did, when after 9 rate hikes, Powell realized that a rate of 2.50% is unsustainable for the US economy which first cracked during the summer of 2019 repo crisis when the Fed cut rates three times, only to cut rates to zero from 1.75% in a matter of days after covid conveniently emerged on the global scene and led to an overnight shutdown of the US economy and "forced" the Fed to nationalize the bond market as well as inject trillions of liquidity into the market. But what is it that prompted us to predict - correctly - that any rate hike campaign is doomed to fail (similar to the Fed's ill-conceived plan to hike rates in 1937, which brought the already reeling country to its knees and only World War 2 saved the day, giving FDR a green light to unleash a fiscal stimulus tsunami the likes of which we hadn't seen until the covid response)? Simple: as we explained back in Dec 2015, the equilibrium growth rate in the US, or  $r^*$  (or r-star), was far far lower than where most economists thought it was. In fact, as the sensitivity table below which we first constructed in 2015 showed, the equilibrium US growth rate was right around 0%. As we explained then making the case for a far lower r-star, "if nominal growth is 3 percent and the debt GDP ratio is 300 percent, the implied equilibrium nominal rates is around 1 percent. This is because at 1% rates, 100% of GDP growth is necessary to service interest costs." In this case, real growth would slow in response to rate hikes because productivity would stay weak at full employment and companies would be profit/price constrained around paying higher wages. Moreover, nominal growth would then slow even more than real growth does because inflation would fall to 1 percent or below. As we concluded then, "this is the important policy error scenario because even a very shallow path of rate hikes might drive the real Funds rate well above the short-term equilibrium real rate, further depressing demand. It is then plausible that the economy would be driven into recession, and the Fed would quickly be forced to abort the hiking cycle. As an aside, such a policy error could reinforce itself by causing structural damage that puts additional downward pressure on the equilibrium real rate. In this case the yield curve would flatten meaningfully, at least until the Fed actually reversed course by cutting rates." As the chart at the top shows, this is precisely what happened, only instead of World War II - which is what short-circuited the Ghost of 1937 rate hike policy error, it was the covid crisis that gave the Fed and the US government a green light to unleash an unlimited monetary and fiscal stimulus, delaying the inevitable recession and kicking the can a few years..."

This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

Market Update for Monday - July 19th, 2021

Albert, first things first - here's where the major markets ended today:

MARKETS

arrow down S&P 500 4258 -69 -1.6%

arrow down Dow Jones 33962 -726 -2.1%

arrow down Nasdaq 14549 -132 -0.9%

arrow down Crude Oil 66.58 -5.0 -7.0%

arrow down Gold 1813 -2 -0.1%

*As of market close

And here's today's stock market update:

Today's Highlights:

- All three indices tumbled after the morning bell and were hammered throughout the session, with the DOW dropping by 2.1% for its single worst day since October of last year. The NASDAQ and S&P 500 fell 1.1% and 1.6% respectively, as big tech, energy, travel, and financials all took a beating to start the week.
- Fears of the delta variant spreading hit the markets on Monday, as cases in all 50 states rose for the fourth day in a row. This is the first time this has happened since the initial virus surge in March of 2020. Crude Oil (CL) plunged after OPEC+ agreed to begin phasing out production cuts. More supply combined with the possibility of reduce travel was too much for crude to handle, and (CL) lost 7.6%.
- Zoom Video Communications (ZM) dropped 2.2%, a day after the company announced it is acquiring cloud-based contact center software provider Five9 (FIVN) in an all stock deal worth $14.7 billion. Shares of FIVN were up 5.9% during the session.

- Reopening stocks took the brunt of the damage on Monday as the delta variant threatens a return to normalcy. Shares of Boeing (BA) tumbled 4.9%, United Airlines (UAL) fell 5.5%, and cruise operator Carnival Cruise Lines (CCL) plummeted 5.7%.
- On that same note, stay at home stocks showed some of the only signs of green on Monday as companies like DocuSign (DOCU) gained 2.6%, telehealth provider TelaDoc (TDOC) added 3.1%, and food delivery service DoorDash (DASH) surged by 4.9%.
- Connected fitness company Peloton (PTON) jumped 7.1% as both a stay at home play, as well as an announcement from the company that it was entering the video game market, which will be available as a workout challenge on its connected machines.
- Chip maker NVIDIA (NVDA) rose 3.4% today, on the eve of its much anticipated 4 for 1 stock split.

1. New Jersey

This state has some of the highest taxes in the country.

Outbound moves: 69.5%

The grass is always greener outside the Garden State, as New Jersey retains its No. 1 spot for the third consecutive year.

Jersey has been one of the top 10 move-out states for United Van Lines for more than a decade. Retirement was the top reason people fled in 2020, followed by the desire to be closer to family, which accounted for more than a quarter of the state's outgoing movies.

Taxes could also be a major culprit — New Jersey has some of the highest in the country — though Reddit's bjorn2bwild says just about everything is incredibly expensive.

“We have high property taxes if you want to live in a decent area. School districts are very closely tied to municipalities, so if you want your kids to go to a good school, prepare to pay for it. Auto insurance, tolls, most goods and services are all very high.”

[ excerpt Judge Dorsey’s opinion: Nancy, you’re preaching to the choir. ‘...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

Eric Holder spent six years as attorney general, and failed to prosecute banks for their criminal wrongdoing or put any bank executives behind bars. Now, he’s set to rejoin his old white-collar criminal defense firm, making millions each year helping Wall Street bankers avoid criminal consequences. Worse, it was just reported that the firm, Covington & Burling, has kept an empty 11th floor corner office for Holder awaiting his return. Combined with Holder’s purchase a year ago of a $1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm even while it continued to represent companies under Department of Justice investigation. If the firm and Holder agreed on a future job offer, that alone could violate criminal laws. ...”...then, of course with trump, sop/way of life, etc..

[ excerpt Judge Dorsey’s opinion: Nancy, you’re preaching to the choir. ‘...Plaintiff, pro se, sues under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act ("RICO"), 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961-1968, and the Federal Tort Claims Act ("FTCA"), 28 U.S.C. §§ 1291, 1346, 1402, 2401-2402, 2411-2412, 2671-2680. This court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964(a) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1346(b) (1). II. BACKGROUND The facts are taken as alleged in the complaint[1]. Plaintiff alleges a broad-ranging conspiracy involving the United States of America, the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts, various U.S. District Court Judges, various U.S. Bankruptcy Trustees, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Donald Trump, the FBI, and fifteen John Doe defendants. The scheme involves the United States laundering proceeds from illegal drug sales through the New Jersey casinos of Donald Trump and systematically defrauding bankruptcy creditors and debtors through the theft of property and surplus funds generated through bankruptcy sales. Plaintiff further alleges fraud and a massive cover-up, effected by misrepresenting court proceedings and removing court documents, as part of the underlying crimes that give rise to his civil RICO claims. In 1987, Plaintiff commenced an action alleging civil RICO violations in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey to recover money owed to him by a Mr. Dilena. The case was assigned to District Judge Maryanne Trump Barry[2]. The thrust of his claim was that Mr. Dilena diverted funds owed to Plaintiff and comingled them with illicit drug profits that were then laundered through the Trump casinos. Contemporaneous to the 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff claims that he informed Assistant U.S. Attorney Jonathan Lacey of the RICO scheme and provided him with documents to support his theory. After no answer from Mr. Lacey for several months, Plaintiff learned Mr. Lacey was no longer with the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be found. Plaintiff delivered another package of the same documents several months later to U.S. Attorney Sam Alito.[3] After no contact for several months Plaintiff learned that Mr. Alito was no longer working in the U.S. Attorney's office and that his documents could not be located. Plaintiff then attempted to tell his story to agents of the FBI, but they were not receptive. As a result of deliberately slow proceedings in his 1987 RICO action, Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy in New Jersey in 1988. Later in 1988, he sought to recuse Judge Barry because she was the sister of Donald Trump, owner of the Trump Casinos involved in the RICO scheme. At this time Plaintiff met with then U.S. Bankruptcy Trustee Hugh Leonard to convince him to join Plaintiff's motion to recuse. Mr. Leonard declined. The 1987 RICO action was dismissed in 1989.....'

What Goldman Really Thinks: "The Ante Will Be Upped When Taper Begins"

<https://www.zerohedge.com/markets/what-goldman-really-thinks-ante-will-be-upped-when-taper-begins>

8-8-21 "S&P is trading at P/E levels only seen in the tech bubble ..."

"Finance professionals are well aware that when it comes to research, Wall Street has two sets of books: one set, that produced by the official sellside Research division, tends to be perpetually cheerful and is meant to encourage commission-boosting risk-taking among the broader client group; and since this is the research that immediately leaks to the financial media and thus the broader public, it serves to bolster optimism in capital markets and encourage a continuation of a market-levitating status quo. An example of this is Goldman's David Kostin announcing last Thursday that he is hiking his year-end price target for the S&P500 from 4,300 to 4,700 primarily on lower Treasury yields. While there was little discussion about why lower yields which paradoxically signify a slowing economy and lack of reflation should be bullish for markets, that doesn't really matter - what matters is that market upside has received a Goldman stamp of approval, and now the rest of Wall Street's client-facing researchers will scramble to imitate Goldman with their own optimistic upgrades of where "they" think the market will close the year.

But is that what Goldman really thinks?

For the answer of what any bank - be it Goldman or anyone else - believes will happen, one has to step away from the research desk which is manned by bankers whose pay is not determined by whether they are right or wrong, but whether they produce enough convincing work product to validate the prevailing market narrative (in the current case bullish) and also facilitating client meetings with management teams, which is also why most ratings on Wall Street are "Buy" - few CEOs will meet with clients of a bank that just slapped a "Strong Sell" rating on their stock.

As a result, the truth often lies with the unofficial research created by a bank's Sales and Trading division, which is far more difficult to come by - in fact it usually is not even included in a bank's client blasts, one can't directly subscribe to it - and is proprietary to specific traders from either the Flow or Prop desks where it is shared on a direct email basis with a very small subset of generous clients, usually those whose soft dollar commissions surpass a given threshold. Furthermore, since these reports - and their authors - are judged and compensated on the feedback from their clients, and in many cases their own direct P&Ls, the analysis is usually far much more accurate because unlike regular research, if traders are wrong one too many times, they can not only lose their bonus if clients complain, but can also lose their job..."

Bill Bonner Aug 10, 2021 “As for wealth... Who needs it? You can now depend on the feds for unemployment... and subscription services in place of your own entertainment, transportation, and home ownership...”

POITOU, FRANCE – We check the financial news...

Both the $1 trillion “infrastructure bill” and the $3.5 trillion “human infrastructure” budget moved along in Congress...

And stocks hit new record highs on Friday... after what was reported as a “blowout” jobs report.

That is to say, we are making progress. The delusions grow more extreme. The bubble gets bigger. And the day that it will all blow up comes closer.

When will that day come? We don’t know.

But next month comes the “benefits cliff.” Soon after, the moratorium on evictions expires. So do the feds’ unemployment boosters...

And U.S. debt now stands at $28.43 trillion. That leaves just $0.07 trillion of spending before it bumps into the new debt ceiling – $28.5 trillion – put in place on August 2. From Business Insider:

Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen on Monday warned congressional leaders that a failure to raise the federal debt ceiling will cause “irreparable harm” to the economy as Congress barrels towards the deadline to fund the government and a potential spending battle...”

The Media's Role in the U.S. “War Machine”
<https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/the-medias-role-in-the-u-s-war-machine/> Bill Bonner 8-17-21

The swift takeover of the Taliban in Afghanistan begs these questions: Who is responsible for the 20-year, $2.26 trillion war? Why isn't the media calling for the warmongers to be held responsible?

"...After our disgraceful defeat in Afghanistan, for example, you'd think the American press would be blasting the knuckleheads who got us into it – the generals... the think-tank war boosters... the private sector profiteers, who made billions from aiding and abetting the military's boondoggle.

You'd think the media would be howling for the heads of them all... including retired General David Petraeus (who led U.S. forces in Afghanistan and Iraq and subsequently headed up the CIA) and G. W. Bush himself.

They lied. They blundered. They wasted trillions of dollars and have the blood of thousands of people on their hands.

But if you want to understand what happened – beyond the usual “mistakes were made” excuses – don't expect to find it in the major U.S. media.

Here's Sri Lankan “social theorist,” Indi Samarajiva:

The American war on Afghanistan was a $2.26 trillion scam. Somebody pocketed all that money, and it certainly wasn't the people of Afghanistan. That amount is 115 years of Afghan GDP, and it mostly went to arms dealers, the corrupt US military, and corrupt US politicians. Meanwhile the Taliban gets to keep the weapons. This wasn't just a waste, it was a gigantic fraud.

Shouldn't the people responsible for this scam at least be put in prison? Better yet, shouldn't a gallows be set up on the Capitol mall... and Petraeus and Bush hung... to serve as a proper warning to the next group of warmongers?

Instead, the people responsible for the war now sit on the boards of Raytheon and Boeing. They advise the nation on “defense” issues and live in their mansions in Northern Virginia... as if they have nothing to be ashamed of.

Media Silence

A cop killed George Floyd, and the media went bananas.

In Afghanistan, U.S. soldiers killed thousands. Where is the press? Where are the demands for justice? Where are the investigations – what did they know? When did they know it? And how much money did they make on the affairs?

Silence.

How come? Because the media were in on the game from the beginning.

Dan Cohen, in Behind the Headlines:

Imagine a country where there's no separation between the government, the military, and the media. A lot of Americans would think of China, Russia or North Korea, but it's a perfect description of the United States today.

When you read the news, you may think you're getting the lowdown from an unbiased source. Often, what you are really getting is a press release from the U.S. government filtered through a toady "reporter."

Special Access

Here's how it works...

A "Think Tank" is created, such as the Center for a New American Security (CNAS). It takes in millions of dollars from the defense industry, oil companies, big banks, and foreign governments.

Then, it gives "residencies" to reporters, from The Washington Post, for example, who follow defense issues and are granted special "access" to the Pentagon.

Naturally, the reporters are very sympathetic to the defense industry... and to the government and all its works.

They are not objective observers of the Deep State's military wing; they are part of it.

And Facebook, Twitter, and Google? What role do they play?

More to come...

A HISTORY OF THE CLASSIC ELITE SCAM

<https://www.rogueeconomics.com/bill-bonner-diary/a-history-of-the-classic-elite-scam/> Bill Bonner 8-19-21 Early empires were rewarding for the conquerors. Every great empire was able to profit off its takeover... but then came the U.S. empire...

WHAT NEXT?

By Bill Bonner

Thursday, August 19, 2021

“ The greatest happiness is to scatter your enemy and drive him before you. To see his cities reduced to ashes. To see those who love him shrouded and in tears. And to gather to your bosom his wives and daughters. – Genghis Khan, first Great Khan of the Mongol Empire

Bill Bonner

POITOU, FRANCE – It’s easy to criticize the Biden Team for its breathtaking incompetence in Afghanistan.

So that’s what we’ll do.

But the debacle illustrates far more than just the failure of one president, one party, or one administration.

It shows us how the whole elite scam works...

...from the delusion that the rest of the world wants to be like the USA... if it could only get the chance...

...to the fantasy that its experts know what they’re doing...

...to the “exceptional nation” vanity... and misplaced faith in high-tech, super-expensive U.S. firepower...

...to the kind of misadventure you get up to when you can pay for it with fake money...

...to the collaboration of Wall Street and America’s leading industries...

...to the complete lack of historical perspective or intelligent political leadership...

...to the bovine-like acceptance by the public of the elites’ conjob...

...and the toadiness of its leading media.

Classic Elite Scam

As we pointed out in an early book, Empire of Debt, the U.S. never really got the hang of imperial finance.

Early empires must have been exhilarating... and rewarding. The conquerors raped the women, made slaves of the men, and carried off all the treasure they could get their hands on.

The Roman Empire was more sophisticated. Victorious troops won slaves and booty, and then the captured people paid regular tribute to Rome.

The British Empire was a more modern, commercial variant, taking raw materials from colonies and using them to make finished products in Britain, which were then sold at a profit.

But the U.S. empire was a money-loser from the beginning. The elite enjoyed the thrill of playing World of Warcraft with live ammunition. They also got the jobs... the contracts... and the power.

But they never figured out how to make it pay, except for themselves... and only by taking the money from their own people.

It was a classic elite scam, in which the rewards go to the people at the top... and the costs (including most of the fatalities) fall upon the public.

Bill Bonner: Shadow-Banned?

Eyes on the Money

Yes, in the Afghanistan debacle, it's all there... right before our eyes, like a corpse dumped on the highway.

And now we ask: What other incompetence are the elites hiding? What other lies are they telling?

And... will the lies and bungling continue for years... and then come crashing down in a matter of days?

Our beat here at the Diary is economics and finance. So we will ignore the war against COVID-19, the War on Drugs, diversity, democracy, anti- racism, climate control, and the rest of the claptrap. We'll keep our eyes on the money.

[Featured: (Bizarro World) Facebook set to launch new cryptocurrency?]

And we note, again, that it's amazing what you can't see when you're paid to be blind.

Investors have made fortunes by not noticing that their stocks are priced nowhere near what they are really worth...

Statisticians are paid to miscalculate the inflation rate...

Economists build careers by ignoring the basics of economics...

Politicians win office by promising to spend more than we can afford...

And Federal Reserve chief Jerome Powell becomes the most famous public servant since Pontius Pilate by closing his eyes to the destruction caused by his phony interest rates and trillions of dollars' worth of fake money.

**--

Delayed Reaction

The fake dollar was introduced 50 years ago last Sunday. It probably would have disappeared long ago had not then-Fed chair Paul Volcker given it a new lease of life in 1980.

Thereafter, the U.S. held together fairly well for the next 20 years.

So we can probably date the real drift into fantasyland to about the same time as the invasion of Afghanistan... in the early 2000s.

"Reagan proved that deficits don't matter," said then-Vice President Dick Cheney in 2003.

Of course, deficits do matter. But not necessarily right away.

And by the time you realize that they do matter, you are trying to take off from a crowded runway... with dozens of people clinging to your wheels.

More to come...

// *The Afghan Adventure and Other Lies From America's Elite

By Bill Bonner

Friday, August 20, 2021

The Afghan army wasn't real. The Afghan Civil

Authority was never real. They never collected taxes. There were no courts outside of police robbing people. None of it ever existed... it was just a big jobs program funded by American money, and the moment it looked like the money would go away, everyone went home.

– Former U.S. soldier Graham Platner, interviewed by
*The Jerusalem Post

POITOU, FRANCE – What a jolly, schadenfreudian week.

The American elite have had their noses rubbed in their most precious delusions and pretensions.

They spent $2.2 trillion, equal to $55,000 for every person in the nation, building a modern, democratic Afghanistan (and coincidentally, enriching themselves).

And now, instead of receiving polite “thank you” notes, they are chased from the country in appalling scenes of disorganization and incompetence.

And this was not just the “military-industrial complex” that president Dwight D. Eisenhower warned against.

If this was a “ship of fools,” the universities, think-tanks, media, liberals, conservatives... Republicans as well as Democrats... do-gooders and world improvers – all were in the first-class cabins.

They imagined that they were bringing the indisputable virtues of the American way of life – with its unlimited fake-dollar spending, Prozac, and transgender bathrooms – to the ancient lands south of the Hindu Kush.

And it was all a fraud, marked by lies and deceit over 20 years...”

MY POST/WARNING FROM OVER A DECADE AGO:

USA #1? 40 Embarrassing Things That America Is The Best In The World At

<http://endoftheamericandream.com>

<http://albertpeia.com/40badthingsusabest.htm>

‘Is the USA still #1? Well, there are many things that America is still the best in the world at, but unfortunately a lot of those categories are nothing to be proud of. Once upon a time the United States was the greatest nation on earth, but now we are a nation that is in a horrific state of decline. Just consider a few of the embarrassing things that America leads the world in: obesity, crime, divorce, teen pregnancy, child abuse deaths and government debt. The statistics that you are about to read below are incredibly disturbing. Most people that write these kinds of articles about the decline of America hate this country. But that is not the case with me. I was born and raised in America and I love this nation deeply. It is time to realize that we will never be able to start fixing our problems until we take a really good look in the mirror and realize just how far we have fallen. America is not the country that it once was. America is a complete and total mess and just "tweaking" a few things here and there is not going to return this nation to its former glory. We have forgotten the things that once made us great, and if we do not return to them we will continue to fall apart as a nation.

With that being said, the following are 40 embarrassing things that America is the best in the world at....

#1 America has the highest incarceration rate and the largest total prison population in the entire world by a good margin.

#2 There are more car thefts in the United States than anywhere else in the world by far.

#3 Of all the major industrialized nations, America is the most obese. Mexico is #2.

#4 The average American drinks more than 600 sodas a year - the most in the world.

#5 U.S. corporations sell more fast food and more soda than anyone else in the world by a wide margin.

#6 Nobody watches more television per week (28 hours) than Americans do. Although to be honest, people living in the UK are tied with us.

#7 The United States leads the world in credit card fraud.

#8 The United States has the highest percentage of one person households on the entire planet.

#9 The United States has the highest divorce rate in the world by a good margin.

#10 The United States has the highest teen pregnancy rate in the world by far.

#11 There are more school shootings in America than anywhere else in the world.

#12 The United States has the highest child abuse death rate in the world.

#13 There are more "deaths by reptile" in America than anywhere else in the world.

#14 The United States has the most lawyers per capita in the entire world.

#15 The United States produces more pornography than any other nation in the world.

#16 Americans take more prescription drugs than anyone else in the world.

#17 More is spent on prescription drug advertising in America than anywhere else in the world.

#18 The percentage of women taking antidepressants in America is higher than in any other country in the world.

#19 More people have been diagnosed with mental disorders in America than anywhere else on earth.

#20 The United States has the highest rate of illegal drug use on the entire globe.

#21 There is more credit card debt in America than anywhere else in the world.

#22 There is more mortgage debt in America than anywhere else in the world.

#23 There is more student loan debt in America than anywhere else in the world.

#24 The United States spends more money on government schools than any other nation on earth does.

#25 U.S. citizens spend more time in school than anyone else in the world. So why are so many of us dumb as a rock?

#26 Nobody in the world gets more plastic surgery done than Americans do.

#27 The United States leads the world in eating disorder deaths.

#28 According to nationmaster.com, the United States has the most total reported crimes in the world by far.

#29 Nobody has more airport security thugs groping women and children than America does.

#30 The United States spends much more on health care as a percentage of GDP than any other nation on the face of the earth.

#31 The United States has the most complicated tax system on the entire planet.

#32 The United States has the most laws on the entire planet.

#33 The United States spends more on the military than the next 12 nations combined, and yet the Obama administration is considering plans to unilaterally slash the size of the U.S. nuclear arsenal by up to 80 percent.

#34 The United States has the most foreign military bases in the world by far.

#35 The United States exports more arms to other countries than anyone else in the world.

#36 Americans spend more time sitting in traffic than anyone else in the world.

Biden said on Tuesday that he'd inherited the situation from Trump. "My predecessor, the former president, signed an agreement with the Taliban to remove US troops by May the 1st, just months after I was inaugurated," he said. "It included no requirement that the Taliban work out a cooperative governing arrangement with the Afghan government. But it did authorize the release of 5,000 prisoners last year, including some of the Taliban's top war commanders, among those who just took control of Afghanistan. And by the time I came to office, the Taliban was in its strongest military position since 2001."

Eric Holder spent six years as attorney general, and failed to prosecute banks for their criminal wrongdoing or put any bank executives behind bars. Now, he's set to rejoin his old white-collar criminal defense firm,making millions each year helping Wall Street bankers avoid criminal consequences.Worse,it was just reported that the firm, Covington&Burling,has kept an empty 11th floor corner office for Holder awaiting his return. Combined with Holder's purchase a year ago of a$1.5 million condo just 300 feet from his new office raises serious questions about how long Holder knew he would be getting a major payday from his old firm while it continued to represent companies under DOJ investigation.If the firm & Holder agreed on a future job offer,that alone could violate criminal laws.

Joy Reid: Is America more like Trump than we'd like to admit? [ Well, truth be told, as I've previously documented on this website <http://albertpeia.com/> ; america is indeed a nation, as is trump, predominantly mentally ill, criminal. But every one of them hopes to get there before his Social Security/Obamacare benefits run out. Many believe it's a sure thing... They think there is a "trust fund" with money tucked away to pay for their care. But there is no "trust fund," no savings, no pot of money anywhere. Here's what former Federal Reserve chairman Alan Greenspan had to say about it: The term Social Security "Trust Fund" is nonsense... It is a mandatory outlay and there is a 0% chance that outlay will not get made. When the fund runs out, there is no chance anything will change. The U.S. has committed to pensions it cannot pay... Greenspan is right. There is another head-on collision coming, much more serious than the Democrat-Republican game of chicken. There is zero chance that the payments won't be made. But there is also zero chance that the funds will be there to make them. The One Big Threat You Face on November 3rd. Unpayable Liabilities Immovable object meets irresistible force. The current estimate of unfunded liabilities – made by professor Laurence Kotlikoff of Boston University – is around $210 trillion. Add that to the $27 trillion official “national debt” and you get $237 trillion. Who's going to pay that? Well... no one... and everyone. Politically, it must be paid... or the party in power will be removed by boomer voters. But, financially, it can't be paid, not without some hocus pocus from the Federal Reserve (which will make the payments much less valuable). And no, the system cannot be “reformed” and “saved.” Politically, entitlements are immovable. Mathematically, they are unpayable. Result: a head-on collision. U.S. entitlements are “a tragedy we see coming,” says JPMorgan Chase CEO Jamie Dimon. So much of the economy now depends on money from the government that if the amounts forthcoming were reduced, consumer spending would go down... and the U.S. economy would crash. Bigger Bailout That is also why another CARES Act is becoming more urgent. The big GDP bounce we saw in the third quarter, which commentators took as evidence of a recovery, was a fraud. It was almost completely paid for with the Fed's phony money. And now, that money is petering out. And so is the recovery. What else can the geezers do, but print more of it? And what will happen as they print more and more money, trying to keep the train on the rails? There are only a few more weeks before the election. Our guess is that Ol' Casey Jones – now recuperating in Walter Reed Hospital, and soon back on the job in the White House – and the whole team of Republican lawmakers, will be so desperate to announce another big bailout... and another beautiful stock market boom... ...that they will welcome a much bigger bailout than they first proposed. That is, they will chicken out... avoid a crash now... and set up a bigger one later.”

WILLIAM BONNER“...Cover Up The federal government now owes $27 trillion that it can't pay. The country as a whole, including the private sector, owes $80 trillion... that it can't pay. And the government has promised America's 76 million baby boomers (and others) $210 trillion in

- Proof of the source, nature, and meaning of ancient symbolism.
- Proof that the texts of all three Faiths of Abraham and related mystical traditions are based on this symbolism.
- Proof that current religious texts are based on earlier symbolic texts that were rewritten and recast by religious leaders and scribes.
- The use of the symbology throughout these texts is redundant, consistent, and in verifiable contexts, thereby demonstrating that their origins were symbolic wisdom narratives, not religion. Consequently, several facts and conclusions emerge from these realizations:

- Much of what these religions and mystery schools assert is verifiably false.
- These assertions are not mere mistakes but are purposely fraudulent and deceptive.
- Christianity is by far the most dishonest and deceptive of all three of these religions.
- Any religious leader or scholar with minimal intelligence who has spent years exploring these texts and who still insists they are literal history is delusional and/or purposely deceptive.
- The assertions by all three Faiths of Abraham that their texts are the unmodified “word of God” or were delivered by angels are verifiably fraudulent.
- Every single story about supernatural occurrences is based on misinterpreted and/or misrepresented symbolism and/or rehashed from earlier mystery school traditions.
- The original texts focused on wisdom, philosophy, and prophecy, and repeatedly spoke out against the ignorance and deception of religion.
- The wisdom symbology evident in these texts is more than 6000 years old and is tightly synchronized with the Hebrew alphabet, calendar, and the Zodiac.
- All three of these religions contain purposeful deception perpetrated by religious, monetary, and political leaders throughout the last several millennia.
- The association of the original authors of the original symbolic wisdom texts with the Creator of the universe is now verifiable and intellectually demonstrable. Consequently, the existence of a Creator of this universe is verified.
- The images and assertions about the Creator by these religions are purposely false; therefore, the gods portrayed by these religions are false.
- The original Hebrew calendar was solar-based and its creation was purposely and verifiably synchronized with the original prophecies and wisdom texts.
- Most ancient religions and mystery schools are based on texts using the same ancient symbology, which can now be shown to have long-predated all of them.

- This ancient symbology and associated wisdom originated on the African continent and predates both Egyptian and Mesopotamian civilizations.
  - None of the empires and societies of this epoch have ever fully deciphered the wisdom of the ancients. It is therefore undeniable that it remained a mystery to them because it predated all of them.
  - The Great Sphinx perfectly embodies this ancient symbology and is significant evidence that it probably predates Egyptian civilization, as already demonstrated using other knowledge.
  - The Great Sphinx is the symbol for the Lion of the Tribe of Juda, and its African face is obvious and undeniable, regardless of repeated assertions that it is the image of later Egyptian pharaohs.
- Once you've gained the ability to understand ancient symbology and can discern the truth of the above conclusions, further revelations flow from this knowledge:
- Decoding the symbology and interpreting the translated texts proves that Christianity's assertions about Jesus Christ and associated prophecies are blatantly false and purposely deceptive.
  - Every single one of the assertions of miracles attributed to the fantasy Jesus Christ are rewritten Hebrew symbolism taken from prophecies and narratives about me.
  - Both Judaism and Islam lend support to the existence of Jesus Christ and are likewise lying about this and many other topics.
  - With the understanding that Christianity and Jesus Christ are purposeful deceptions, it is undeniable that stories about the Holy Grail and Mary Magdalene are recast symbolic narratives and allegory originally symbolizing the Teacher of Righteousness and the feminine characterization of wisdom. The very same symbolism is used to portray Sophia and King Solomon's intimate relationship with wisdom.
  - On the other hand, it proves that the symbology of the original Hebrew texts was purposeful, structured, and encoded great wisdom, as has long been asserted. Consequently, a major byproduct of that wisdom is to expose how religions recast and embellished ancient wisdom texts into purposeful deception.
  - Likewise, most of the allusions to angels are recast and/or misinterpreted symbolism further embellished to support a long list of literal fantasy angels living in an equally fanciful heaven.
  - Many of the Hebrew texts contain legitimate wisdom and prophecy, though it is necessary to identify the original symbolic elements, strip away the religious embellishments, and reconstruct the original narratives as I have done with The Apocalypse. Once you fully understand that these religions are purposely fraudulent and their true focus is the manipulation and exploitation of entire populations, many other things become abundantly clear.

- These religions are the products of human deceivers and represent great fraud and great injustice upon the entire human race.
- Once you can prove that these religions are the work of greedy, arrogant and deceptive men, you also know such actions are directly counter to the wisdom of our Creator. Consequently, the ages old veil is stripped away and all the evidence leads directly to the Vatican as the secret source and controller of all three Faiths of Abraham.
- The Vatican and its Roman predecessor had a direct hand in the creation of all three Faiths of Abraham, as evidenced by their texts and many historical facts. It still secretly controls all three.
- Christianity serves as the primary cover story to hide the true nature and activities of the Vatican, which is the mysterious power behind the New World Order and other international deceptions.
- The Vatican and world leaders have long conspired together to attain and maintain wealth and power through great deception and cruelty, precisely as the Book of Daniel and The Apocalypse symbolize.
- All three Faiths of Abraham are products of the ancient priesthood and mystery schools that emanated from ancient Babylon and Egypt. They secretly controlled the primary empires that resulted in western civilization, precisely as the Book of Daniel symbolizes.
- The Vatican is the modern incarnation of that ancient priesthood and is the remnant of all four ancient empires as symbolized in the Book of Daniel, The Apocalypse, and elsewhere.
- The Vatican is the secret power center and capitol of the worldwide empire symbolized as Mystery Babylon in The Apocalypse.
- The Vatican is also the secret remnant of the Roman Empire, which has remained intact and actively accumulating wealth and power throughout history. It now secretly rules the entire planet in coordination with the religious, monetary, and political leaders that belong to its secret societies.
- When you understand that the Vatican secretly controls all three Faiths of Abraham and the leadership of most nations, it becomes obvious and undeniable that wars, terrorism, poverty and most of the struggle and suffering of humanity are purposely engineered through widespread Machiavellian manipulation and conspiracy. Not only have I decisively and verifiably exposed the lies of all three Faiths of Abraham, thereby proving the true nature of the Vatican, I have solved many ages-old mysteries and given humanity the ability to understand ancient symbology and the wisdom it encodes. More importantly, I have given humanity the ability to intellectually verify the existence and the true nature of the Creator of this universe. Furthermore, the assertions of all religions about the nature of their "gods," the sources of their texts, and their relationship to the Creator (which are their primary claims to authority), are now decisively and irretrievably exposed as blatant lies. Based on a mountain of evidence, which includes the keys to recovering much ancient wisdom, I now prove to humanity that I am Melchizedek, reincarnated, the primary servant of the Creator of this universe, on this planet. I am the ancient sage and symbologist who labored through many lifetimes authoring much of the ancient wisdom and prophecy that religious leaders recast to serve their own greedy and deceptive purposes. I now reveal many long-hidden truths, thus exposing the deceptions of religious, political and monetary leaders and imparting substantial wisdom to all of humanity, not just to some self-chosen few .”
